870 Lost Lives in Jap Ship

Hongkong Survivors Relate Jap Cruelty

OSAKA, Sept. 8 (AP).—The most harrowing memory of 371 British soldiers—survivors of the Hongkong garrison who were liberated here today—is the sinking of the Lisbon Maru.

They were among 1,800 British troops, taken at Hongkong, who were aboard the 7,000-ton armed Japanese merchant ship when it was torpedoed 70 miles south of Shanghai at 8 a.m. October 1, 1942.

Japanese locked the British troops in holds and went about rescuing 2,000 of their own soldiers aboard.

Not a single Japanese was lost, but 870 of the Britons were drowned.

Survivors said: "The Japs battened down the hatches and pulled tarpaulin over them. The water started seeping in. We pumped from 7 that night until 9 the next morning.

"The only water we had to drink was moisture that condensed in the bulkheads. When we pleaded for water, the Japs sent down a bucket of brine.

"A number of the men fainted in the darkness and drowned in the holds.

"At 9 o'clock the second night, there was a sudden lurch. We broke the hatches open and found practically the entire ship under water. Only the after part was afloat.

"We jumped overboard, but were not picked up by the Japs until the next afternoon."

Most of the Britons said they hadn't expected Japan to surrender before it was invaded. One declared: "An invasion would have been a walkaway. Japan's boasts of strong defences were just so much nonsense."

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1945, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Italy today feels impotent, lacking Allied assurances that she has worked her passage to a place among the powers.

This attitude, The Times says editorially, is reasonable, in that a constituency assembly, by its nature a sovereign body, can not discharge its functions in a country not indisputably master of its own destiny. It wants assurances partly material and partly moral.

On the material side, revival of Italian economy is dependent on supplies, particularly coal and means of transport, for without these the country is in danger of collapsing beneath the weight of unemployment.

* * *

The necessity for an early constituency assembly is recognized by The Times, which draws attention to the fact that liberation committees in the north still refuse to recognize authority of Prime Minister Parri's Central Government, and continue to execute their own justice as in the days of German occupation.

It is pointed out that Italy has had little opportunity in recent history to work out a sound political structure. Local or municipal political institutions have always been stronger than the central authority. Yet without a strong central government, Italy can not hope for the stable economy on which the nation depends.

* * *

The conflict between political democracy and economic democracy, as understood by the Socialists, is more acute in Italy than elsewhere, and it is questionable whether the country now will look to the French revolution or Russian revolution for political guidance.

It rests partly with the Allies, The Times says, to help them make their decision. Material aid from outside is required to assure stability, and moral recognition from outside equally necessary if political institutions are to operate with an adequate sense of responsibility for decisions. "Lacking either of these essential aids, they may, in their helplessness, confront the world with a revived Italian question."

Ceremony at Tomb Of Unknown Soldier

PARIS, Sept. 8 (AP).—Maj.-Gen. John T. Lewis representing Gen. Eisenhower today unveiled a permanent S.H.A.E.F. (Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force) plaque on the tomb of the unknown soldier under the Arch De Triumphe in a short ceremony attended by French, British and American officials.

It showed the S.H.A.E.F. insignia over a rainbow and bore the words, in French and English, "Allied Expeditionary Corps—August 5, 1944."

Big Liner Burned at Liverpool

Empress of Russia Victim of Flames

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 8 (AP).—A fire which burned more than 18 hours reduced the Empress of Russia, 16,810-ton former Canadian Pacific liner, to a hulk today. At least two members of the crew died in the blaze.

Origin of the fire, which broke out while the Empress was at a Barrow-in-Furness dock being refitted, was not known.

The crew members killed were believed to be P. F. Cooke, engineering officer of the Empress, whose home is in Southampton, and Leslie J. Dillon, officer electrician, Liverpool, the only two members of the crew who were not accounted for.

Although firemen reported the blaze under control, the vessel still was burning nine hours after the fire started.

Flames broke out below deck and swept the 16,810-ton vessel which heeled over on her side.

The ship was being refitted at Barrow-on-Furness, 12 miles north of Liverpool, for service as a Government transport.

The liner was used to repatriate war prisoners in 1943, but her other wartime activities have not been made public.

National fire service detachments from 15 Northwest centres fought the fire and had it under control by 7:15 a.m. (London Time) and at 9:00 a.m. fresh crews of firemen took over.

To Be Honored

Field Marshal Montgomery, above, will go to Brussels Wednesday to receive the freedom of the Belgian Capital and the Grand Cordan of the Order of Leopold, the British Army Public Relations Service announced yesterday.

Hold First Commissioning Since End of War

WHEN the White Ensign of the Royal Navy broke out at the masthead of a transport ferry at H.M.C.S. Naden yesterday, it marked the first commissioning since the war ended, and the near completion of Yarrows Ltd., contract with the British Admiralty. Manned and commanded by Royal Navy personnel, the ship was turned over to the commanding officer, Lt.-Cmdr. R. S. Paton, R.N.R., prior to the traditional ceremony. She is the fourth landing ship, transport, constructed by Yarrows Ltd., and only one more ferry remains to be completed. Contracts for four others were canceled with the termination of hostilities. The last ferry will be ready for commissioning in October.

Blessing the ship and the men who will sail on her, in the impressive ceremony conducted on the forecastle, the chaplain read the stirring words of Psalm 107: "They that go down to the sea in ships, and occupy their business in great waters, these men see the works of the Lord, and his wonders in the deep."

As the sun glinted on fixed bayonets of the armed guard, guests and crew sang the hymns, "All Hail," and "Eternal Father," to the accompaniment of the R.C.N. band under W.O. Stanley Sunderland. The solemn ceremony was completed with the hoisting of the ensign, and "God Save the King."

U.S. Ready to Start Projects

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)—Plans are ready for $2,500,000,000 worth of public construction jobs to be undertaken in the next 12 months.

Work can begin on many projects as soon as the War Production Board gives the signal. There may be some delay on Federal projects — principally flood control, rivers and harbors and reclamation—until Congress appropriates funds.

The relaxing by W.P.B. of construction bans, except perhaps on housing, is expected about October 1. That will be the starting gun for the vast backlog of needed work that has accumulated during the war.

The $3,000,000,000 three-year Federal aid road program is all set to go. The $500,000,000 Federal allotment for the first year to be matched equally by the States, already has been apportioned, although Congress has to make the appropriation. On August 1 the States reported plans completed for work estimated to cost $616,000,000.

President Truman has asked Congress to release, in addition, $164,750,000 of road authorizations for previous years which were held up during the war. These plans call for roads in national forests and parks, access roads to Indian reservations, and parkways.

Construction was stopped or deferred on reclamation and irrigation projects totalling $1,158,981,200 because of the war. The reclamation bureau estimates that to complete work now under way will cost $171,997,000. The bureau has $60,000,000 immediately available for construction without waiting for additional appropriations.

Big Bomber Crashes

WEDOWEE, Ala., Sept. 8 (AP).—An army four-engined bomber, identified as a B-29 from the Gulfport, Miss., army air base, crashed and burned with the loss of ten or eleven lives, seven miles south of here last night.

The giant aircraft exploded when it struck the ground and the blast could be heard for 15 miles.

300,000 British Troops in Action Against Japs When Surrender Came

LONDON, Sept. 8 (AP)—Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council, said today 300,000 British troops were fighting the Japanese when Tokio capitulated and were about to launch large-scale operations against Malaya.

"We were also ready to do our share with the United States in the invasion of Japan itself," Morrison declared in a "V-J" celebration address at Lewisham. "Five divisions, one British, one British-Indian, one Australian, one Canadian and one New Zealand, were to be employed as a British Commonwealth force under Gen. MacArthur."

He disclosed that more than 80 per cent of the total strength of the Royal Navy was one of Britain's contributions to the war in the Pacific, adding that "it started to move as soon as the threat from the enemy lessened in European waters."

During the period from the battle of Imphal in April, 1944, to the recapture of Rangoon last May 4 the R.A.F. flew nearly 250,000 sorties against the Japanese, carried 80,000 troops and delivered 170,000 tons of supplies, Morrison said.

Emperor of Japan May Face Trial If Deposed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP).—Emperor Hirohito of Japan may find himself ousted as its ruler, and once the bespectacled little man has ceased to be the royal figurehead of Japan's religious-political system, he may be tried as a war criminal.

At the moment, as far as official Washington will say, these are possibilities. Some foreign diplomatic persons say they are certainties. Evidently the final decision is up to General Douglas MacArthur.

MacArthur's entry into Tokio opens a period of drastic political and economic changes in the defeated island country. The action symbolizes his control of the country.

The changes will be designed to rip out the war-making powers of the Japanese and begin the long process of rendering them peaceful and more or less democratic. Top developments are tentatively expected to include:

1. Withdrawal of Hirohito from the throne—either by voluntary abdication or by order of the Allied powers. He will be replaced by a regency for the schoolboy Prince Akihito. The regent probably will be an elderly member of the Royal family.

2. Breakup of the "Azibatsu"—the clique of eight great families which have run Japanese industry and commerce for generations. Some authorities who have helped shape American policy on Japan consider these families to be the real basis of lingering feudalism in Nippon.

3. Revision of the Japanese constitution to take power from the Emperor and place it in the hands of the people.

These three are long-range measures beyond the immediate problems of disarming the enemy, depriving him of his arms factories, limiting his heavy industries strictly to peace needs, digging out war criminals and destroying the military clique.

Unions Appeal Court Decision

Appeal of Victoria shipyard unions from Magistrate Henry C. Hall's dismissal of charges against Victoria Machinery Depot Co. Ltd. and Falconer Marine Industries, Ltd., under the Dominion Election Act, will reach County Court tomorrow. It is expected the day for hearing the appeal will be fixed then.

Charges were laid against the two firms that they failed to give employees time, with pay, to vote. Magistrate Hall dismissed the charges on the ground that the governing clause was ambiguous.

The employers arranged for workers to leave their jobs at 4 p.m., giving them two hours to vote before the polls closed. Employees claimed they were entitled to two full hours, and left their jobs at 2:30 p.m.

Pearl Harbor Amazed Japs

TOKIO, Sept. 8 (AP).—The Japanese were "amazed" at the success of their Pearl Harbor attack, but they were caught without a plan to take immediate advantage of the blow with a landing on Hawaii, a high Nipponese Naval Ministry official said today.

Planes from four carriers, protected by three battleships, eight cruisers and 20 destroyers hit Pearl Harbor, said Capt. Ryonosuke Imamura, secretary of the Naval Ministry, in an interview.

"We had expected a much greater defence at so important a base," he declared. "We were amazed. Our fleet was told to bomb and leave. We had no troops with which to make a landing. If we had, perhaps we could have taken Hawaii, but we had no plan to do so."

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 8 (AP).—For the first time since Fleet Week, 1940, a sizable number of navy craft will dock here October 27 when 15 battle-scarred ships visit Portland for three days, Mayor Earl Riley said today.

Three heavy cruisers and two escort carriers, all direct from Japanese waters, will be included in Portland's flotilla. Vancouver, Wash., will get four ships.

Japanese Gendarmes Fire on Marching Men

JINSEN, Korea, Sept. 8 (AP). — Japanese Gendarmes fired on a crowd of 500 Korean workmen today as the Koreans were marching to the docks here to welcome American occupation forces.

Two Koreans were killed and ten others wounded in the clash which occurred two hours before the first American boat reached shore.

The Japanese police were both mounted and on foot.

Newest Radar Set Will Guide Ships Through Fog, Darkness

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 8 (AP).—A new radar set that will "completely revolutionize" coastal artillery defence and also answer the problem of guiding incoming ships through fog and darkness even though they themselves lack radar, was disclosed today.

It was unveiled by the Radiation Laboratories at Massachusetts Institute of Technology which designed the apparatus for the Army Signal Corps. Sets had been placed in operation along both coastlines and on the coast of Iwo Jima before the war ended. The equipment is called "seacoast fire-control radar."

It can detect vessels at least 25 miles out to sea under the worst weather conditions with a definition hitherto impossible with other shore-to-sea sets, the scientists said.

And, since its accuracy of detection is within five yards in any direction at the effective firing range of 12 miles, it enables big coastal guns to hit their targets with virtually foolproof exactness. Moreover, it allows the guns to be fired with accuracy at night for the first time, because the radar automatically "feeds" the guns information on the range and bearing of the target.

The set gives such definition that a fleet of several hundred large and small ships, detected at a distance of 30 miles, show up as separate, clearly defined dots of light, whereas previous sets would present such a fleet as a conglomerate mass on the surface of the sea, the radiation laboratory men said.

An area one mile square can be brought to such magnification that a ship five miles away can actually be "seen" to turn, and sometimes even identified as to class. The ship shows up as a light picture shaped like a vessel. The radar operator ashore can see when the vessel passes within a few feet of a marker buoy or other object. The set can even detect seagulls in flight.

The nonmilitary use of the radar will be this:

It will allow the guiding to safe anchorage of ships which either lack radar entirely or have equipment that is out of commission.

Meat Ration Is Resumed

Meat rationing in Canada was resumed today, according to an official announcement by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board carried in an advertisement appearing in this issue of The Daily Colonist.

The advertisement states: "After midnight, September 9, 1945, it is unlawful for any person to buy rationed meats and for anyone to sell rationed meats except on surrender of valid ration coupons or other ration documents. Sales between suppliers, however, will be coupon free until midnight, Saturday, September 15."

U.S. Troops Landing at Korea Port

Official Surrender To Take Place Today

JINSEN, Korea, Sept. 8 (AP).—Veteran combat troops from Okinawa swarmed ashore and into this Korean port on the Yellow Sea today and turned east toward Seoul, capital of this little empire seized by Japan.

The Japanese, who pulled their forces 12 miles inland, will surrender formally in this port.

It was not known when the 7th Infantry Division, spearhead of the occupation forces, would begin the 23-mile march to Seoul, which the Japanese renamed Keijo when they took it over 35 years ago.

The country which never ceased to resist its conquerors, was reported simmering with minor civil disorders, and even the Japanese are believed anxious to surrender control.

With the guns of the 7th Amphibious Group ready to blaze at the first sign of resistance, the landing barges put off through the dangerous tides which often rise 23 feet.

The convoy itself lay outside the treacherous shoal and reef-studded waters at the approaches to the harbor as the invasion boats headed for the dark green shores.

Koreans in native junks sailed out to meet the liberators, but only a wave or two greeted the convoy carrying Maj.-Gen. John R. Hodge's 24th Corps in for the occupation of Southern Korea.

Over the landing barges wheeled formations of warplanes from the escort carriers.

The signing of the surrender will formally free 4,000,000 people, who for 35 years have lived under Japanese rule. The people of Korea can now look back on their long struggle for independence which they began in 1592 when the Japanese first invaded the country.

Japanese Surrender More Pacific Islands

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8 (AP).—Melbourne radio reported in a broadcast monitored tonight by the American Broadcasting Company that the formal surrender of 25,000 Japanese on Bougainville and adjacent Solomons Islands was signed Saturday noon, Australian time.

The surrender by Lt.-Gen. Takatani Kanda and Vice-Admiral Sanejima to Lt.-Gen. Stanley J. Savage occurred at Torokina, West Central Bougainville.

Japanese Envoy Signs Surrender Pact at Nanking

Million Troops Formally Turned Over to Chinese at Ceremony

NANKING, Sept. 9 (Sunday) (AP).—The formal surrender of around 1,000,000 Japanese troops in China was signed here today at 9:04 a.m. (5:04 p.m. Saturday, Pacific War Time.)

Gen. Yatsutsugu Okamura signed for Japan.

The surrender was accepted by Gen. Ho Ying-Chin, delegated by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. He arrived yesterday by plane, completely ignored six Japanese officers waiting at the field and went to the Central Military Academy, China's "West Point."

The text of the surrender acknowledged that "the Emperor of Japan, the Japanese Government and the Japanese Imperial General Headquarters" had recognized "the complete military defeat of Japanese military forces by Allied forces."

The papers thereupon specified that the surrender to Chiang Kai-shek embraces all ground, sea, air and auxiliary forces "within China, excluding Manchuria, Formosa and French Indo-China north of 16 degrees north latitude."

The surrendering forces "will cease hostilities and will remain at the stations they now occupy.

"They are now not combatant troops and in due course will be demobilized," the document stated.

The Japanese agreed to turn over to Chinese forces specified by the Generalissimo "all arms, ammunition, equipment, supplies, records, information and other assets of any kind belonging to the Japanese forces."

All Japanese aircraft, naval units and merchant ships in the area will be maintained without damage.

"All Allied prisoners of war and civilian internees now under Japanese control in the areas named above will be liberated at once and Japanese forces will provide protection, maintenance and transportation to places as directed," Okamura pledged.

All surrendering forces will be subject to control of Chiang Kai-shek. Their movements "will be dictated by him and they will obey only orders and proclamations issued or authorized by him or orders of their Japanese commanders based upon his instructions."

Any failures or delays in carrying out surrender term provisions will result in drastic punishment to "both the violator and his responsible commanders."

Announces Election

WINNIPEG, Sept. 8 (CP).—Premier Stuart Garson announced tonight the Manitoba Provincial election will be held October 15. He made the announcement following an order in council dissolving the fifth session of the 21st legislature.

Take Command Over Ominato

ABOARD THE U.S.S. PANAMINT, MUTSU BAY, Japan, Sept. 9 (Sunday) (AP).—Japan officially surrendered Ominato naval base on the north tip of Honshu, 400 miles from Tokio, to Vice-Admiral Frank Jack Fletcher, of the United States North Pacific Fleet today (Saturday night United States date).

Fletcher's flotilla of nearly 60 ships, which guarded the Aleutians and Alaska and made forays against Nipponese bases in the Kuriles, anchored in Mutsu Bay on the north coast of Honshu Island after navigating the treacherous Tsugaru Strait between Honshu and Hokkaido. Japanese pilots guided the ships through the strait.

Admiral Ugaki had been ordered to bring with him the army commander in the Ominato district and civil leaders, for the ceremony aboard the Panamint.

Terms handed the Japanese ordered the decommissioning of Ominato naval base, situated 400 miles north of Tokio, maintenance of warships and merchant craft without damage, and information on the location of prisoner of war camps in the area.

Cost of Forest Fires $246,119

British Columbia's fire fighting costs reached $246,119 yesterday, the weekly report of the Forest Service revealed. Total number of fires reached 1,668.

A year ago, 1,485 fires had cost $107,058, and two years ago at the same time 968 fires had cost $13,881.

Ninety-one new fires were reported during the week, and 114 were extinguished. Ninety-one were still burning at the end of the wek.

Vancouver Forest District, including Vancouver Island, has had 368 fires, and cost of fighting them was $35,885.

Figures for other districts follow: Prince Rupert, 74 fires costing $2,143; Port George, 172 fires costing $25,000; Kamloops, 506 fires costing $27,602; Nelson, 550 fires costing $155,489.

Mayhew Secures Service Shelter

(Special to The Colonist)

OTTAWA, Sept. 8—R. W. Mayhew, M.P., stated tonight arrangements will be finished early next week for the conversion of army hutments on Topaz Avenue and Tyee Road into emergency shelter quarters for demobilized service personnel.

Within the past few days Mr. Mayhew has had a series of discussions with Army and Navy Minister Douglas Abbott, Munitions Minister C. D. Howe and departmental officials on the subject. "Arrangements will be reached early next week, possibly Monday or Tuesday, and as soon as this has been done there will be no delay in carrying out the work necessary for the conversion," Mr. Mayhew said.

"The plan will make forty apartment dwellings available for veterans and their families."

Vancouver Island Payroll Is Nearly Fifth of B.C. Total

British Columbia payrolls dropped $16,833,477 in 1944, compared with 1943, the peak year, due largely to completion of many war contracts, it is revealed in the annual report of the Provincial Department of Labor, released yesterday by Hon. George S. Pearson. Total 1944 payroll was $378,117,554, against $394,953,041 in 1943.

Construction showed the greatest drop, the total of $43,356,556 being a decrease of more than $16,500,000. Shipbuilding decreased from $65,494,519 in the preceding year to $52,618,098 last year. Mining and concentrating also were down.

Manufacture of food products involved a payroll of $21,321,132, a gain of $3,129,114. Miscellaneous trade and industries accounted for an increase of $1,962,232, and lumber industries for an increase of $1,510,158.

Vancouver Island share of the total British Columbia payroll was 17.56 per cent, compared with 17.76 in 1943. The following table shows British Columbia payrolls for five war years, and the Island share of them:

	B.C. Total	Island
1940	$188,325,766	$38,813,940
1941	289,525,459	48,863,193
1942	321,281,489	58,536,234
1943	394,953,031	70,143,658
1944	378,117,554	66,397,442

Lumber industries, followed by shipbuilding, construction and food products, accounted for the largest number employed in any one group. Lumbering required 27,838 employees, shipbuilding, 24,839, construction, 17,181, and food products, 11,650.

Average weekly industrial wage rose $1.51 over 1943 to reach $38.70, an all-time high.

Of 189,776 persons covered in a survey dealing with racial origin and nationality, 144,381, or 76.08 per cent, were originally from English-speaking countries, 18.27 per cent from continental Europe, 3.95 per cent from Asia, and 1.7 per cent from other countries, or unspecified.

FEMALE WORKERS INCREASE 5,505

Number of female workers in business and industry was 60,410, an increase of 5,505 over 1943. Average weekly wage of those over 18 was $21.45, and of those under 18, $11.70. Only 4.76 per cent were under 18.

Of the total number of female employees, 35,894 were single, and earned $756,133, while 22,299 were married and earned $466,439, and 2,217 were widows and earned $45,129.

A total of 435 firms reported payrolls of more than $100,000, 12 more than in 1943. Eight had payrolls of more than $5,000,000, two between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000, five between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000, ten between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000, and 12 between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000.

Rehabilitation Committees' Work Proving Inspiration

OTTAWA, Sept. 8 (CP).—In the words of Canada's deputy minister for veterans affairs, the work of the 700-odd citizens' rehabilitation committees scattered across the country has been "an inspiration."

Their role as a complement to the complex official program of re-establishment has swung now into its most strenuous period in the most vital position of all—the home towns of the returning servicemen and women.

Grown to a personnel numbering near 20,000 in the greatest of Canadian cities and in towns and villages, the committees are "gradually building up" their strength and their activities, W. S. Woods, the deputy minister, said in an interview.

They receive advice and direction from the Veterans Affairs headquarters here, but their work is essentially a product of their own efforts and ingenuity.

During the past Summer a series of regional conferences has been held across the country to give the leaders a chance to discuss their mutual problems, to help one another and to receive information about legislation through which the serviceman receives gratuities, re-establishment credits and other benefits.

These are some examples of some of their accomplishments:

In Winnipeg, the Young Men's Board of Trade is working with the committee to bring about creation of a preference for veterans in employment openings.

Nanaimo, B.C., gives each veteran a book of tickets for meals, movies, dances, roller skating and boat races. Merrickville, Ont., produced a certificate of appreciation which is presented at a town meeting.

In those and many other ways, the committees are tackling the job of absorbing the veterans back into the communities they left.

At Veterans Affairs headquarters, the work is under E. B. Reid, director of public relations.

Salvage Under Fire

Aircraft salvage units sometimes worked under fire to rescue German aircraft which might provide important information, said L.A.C. W. F. Stoba, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Stoba, 3438 Cook Street, who arrived home yesterday.

"I was not working under fire myself," said L.A.C. Stoba, "but some of the boys picked up a German aircraft a few hundred yards from the German lines. They were under machine gun and mortar fire all the time."

L.A.C. Stoba, who crossed the Channel on July 1, when the beachhead "was still pretty small and uncomfortable," has served in France, Holland, Germany and Denmark.

Paralysis Cases Continue to Gain

BELLINGTON, Wash., Sept. 8 (AP).—Fourteen new cases of infantile paralysis reported here in the past week raised to 82 the number of Whatcom and Skagit county cases treated at an Orthopedic Hospital during the epidemic.

All public gatherings in [illegible] Bellingham, were closed this week-end by order of Dr. H. Garner Wright, Health Officer.

The order includes dances, movie theatres, taverns and public meetings. No action was taken by city health officials because the majority of cases treated were from rural areas.

City and county schools have postponed opening until Sept. 17 because of the outbreak.

Handicapped Workers Holding Their Jobs

VANCOUVER, Sept. 8 (CP).—Ninety per cent of handicapped workers in British Columbia who have been placed in employment this year are still holding their jobs, Col. H. E. Goodman, Selective Service Special Placements Officer here, announced today.

Col. Goodman said, "We can count on nine out of ten placements making good."

Service Is Aim of Victorian Order

TYPICAL of the expert care accorded thousands of bed-side patients each year by the Victorian Order of Nurses, is the case in the above photograph which shows Janice Tillsbury, a local nurse of the order, attending an old man who is not quite ill enough to be sent to hospital but is too weak to look after himself. Miss Tillsbury is one of the eight nurses of the Victorian Order in the city. Nationally known for devotion and service, the V.O.N. has played a major role in the health of Victoria, and has increased its efforts during the war years, paralleling the influx of newcomers and the scarcity of doctors and nurses in the community. Last year the V.O.N., one of the organizations supported by the Community Chest, made a total of 16,528 visits. $6,500 of the $83,000 aimed for in the Chest drive will be allotted to the Victorian Order of Nurses.

If You're Toying With the Idea of a TWEED

No lady ever thinks of a Tweed Coat without considering a Harris Tweed. Of course not ALL Harris Tweeds are of the same quality but those just arrived at Scurrahs are definitely the highest quality hand-woven models and yet the price is only $39.75. The colors are simply superb and there are some new shades never before seen in a Harris. And in Sports Coats of other fine makes there is a very wide range of both plain colors and mixtures, some with velvet collars and embodying Sports adaptations of the new sleeve and pocket features. Then, of course, with Sports Coats we must mention our specialty, Christy of London pure felt hats, light as a feather, and only $8.50.

Up to 400,000 Nazis May Be Tried for War Crimes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP).—As many as 400,000 Nazis may be tried for war crimes when the Allies deal justice to the architects and terrorists of the Second Great War, it was disclosed today.

Guilty big shots probably will be hanged. The military regards shooting as "an honorable death."

Small fry who get off with their skins may be given labor sentences, perhaps helping rebuild what they destroyed in Russia and elsewhere.

Hitler's terror organizations, the Gestapo and the S.S. (Elite Guard), will be charged collectively with war crimes. Conviction would mean automatic punishment of any member of either outfit who couldn't prove he was forced in.

These and other details were learned authoritatively today by persons familiar with the plans, as the Allied War Crimes Commission moved toward the master trial at Nuernberg.

TRIAL OF 24 AT TOP WILL SET PATTERN

This will be a mass trial of top culprits, like Hermann Goering. It will begin in late October or November in the city which was for years the scene of the Nazi party's annual congress.

Twenty-four, including Goering, have been named defendants. Half a dozen more are likely to be added.

Nuernberg will set the pattern. Thereafter lesser assorted murderers and conspirators will be tried—many possibly at the scenes of their crimes, as in Warsaw where the Nazis burned the entire ghetto.

Tons of German official documents have been culled. And pictures as well will be offered. From Hitler's personal photographer alone the Allies have taken a score or more volumes of photographs which tell their story of top-level Nazi knowledge and guilt.

CHARGE COMMITTED CRIME AGAINST PEACE

The basis for the prosecution will be the charge that the Nazi leaders committed crimes against the peace. They planned and waged aggressive war in violation of international treaties. They violated rules and customs of war.

It isn't certain yet whether the entire German General Staff will be charged collectively as will the S.S. and Gestapo.

Unofficial word is that Allied military men are not all favorably disposed. The reported reason: The German General Staff just carried out orders.

Surprisingly, in the view of some American officials, the French were slow to join the United States-championed position that offensive war is a crime—although France has been invaded thrice in a lifetime.

Some of the Russians wondered why any trials were necessary. To them the guilt seemed obvious.

A strong segment of British opinion earlier inclined to the Russian view.

Doctors Report On Tortures in Singapore Camp

SINGAPORE, Sept. 8 (Reuters).—Out of the civilian internees' camp in Singapore has come a document of Japanese terror and torture methods which makes some of the grimmest reading of the Far Eastern war.

It was drawn up by three doctors of the camp after taking evidence lasting for three days from 36 internees—survivors of a group of 57 men and women taken from Chanfi jail for "special interrogation" on October 10, 1943.

The report is signed by Prof. N. S. Alexander, S. N. King and W. L. Blythe, members of the Malayan civil service.

The report states:

"Conditions under which internees were detained were rigorous in the extreme. From 8 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night the inmates had to sit up straight on the bare floor with their knees up, and were not allowed to relax, or to put their hands on the floor, or to talk, or to move except to go to the lavatory. Any infraction involved a beating by the sentries.

ALL HAD ENTERITIS OR DYSENTRY

"There was one water closet to each cell and a water supply for all purposes, including drinking. Nearly all the inmates suffered from enteritis or dysentry. No soap, towel, toilet articles or handkerchiefs were permitted. The three women taken from Chanfi prison were detained in exactly the same conditions as the men, and shared cells with male prisoners of all races.

"Sometimes prisoners' hands were tied behind their backs and they were forced to kneel on sharp pieces of wood or iron, while sharp-edged pieces of wood or metal were placed behind their knees so as to cut into their flesh as they knelt. While they were so kneeling the Japanese would jump on their thighs or on the projecting ends of the bar of wood behind their knees . . .

"There were two forms of water torture. In the first the victim was tied or held down on his back. Interrogation proceeded and the victim was beaten if he did not reply. As he opened his mouth to breathe or answer questions water from a cloth placed over his nose and mouth went down his throat until he could hold no more. Sometimes he was then beaten over his distended stomach.

TIED TO LADDER NEARLY DROWNED

"In the second form of water torture the victim was tied lengthways on a ladder face downward, with the rung of the ladder across his throat and the head below the ladder.

"In this position he was slid head first into a tub of water and kept there until he almost drowned. After being revived, interrogation continued and he would be re-immersed.

"During interrogation, the inquisitor in many cases burned the victim with cigarette and cheroot ends, even on the most sensitive parts of the body. Several Asiatics had petrol poured on their bellies and ignited.

"Electric torture by induction coil was used, one electrode being attached to the hand or foot and other bare wire applied to various parts of the body. One victim reports that he was thrown across the room by the violence of the shock.

"These methods in many cases caused dislocations and permanent damage to the limbs and joints resulted—in one case the inquisitor punctuated his questions by slicing off with a frayed end of bamboo the flesh bruised in the previous beating.

"Of the 57 internees, 12 died of sickness directly attributable to the appalling conditions under which they were detained, one as a result of a fall and torture, and one was executed.

Sees Suffering Under Japanese

By WILLIAM STEWART
Canadian Press War Correspondent

MANILA, Sept. 8 (CP).—In Hongkong this week, before coming to Manila after witnessing liberation of the British Crown Colony, I saw ample evidence during a walk through the flag-lined streets of the city of Victoria of the suffering of the population under the Japanese.

Large food queues, said to be something new, were in evidence and everywhere along the streets there were men and women who obviously had not enjoyed a square meal for months.

On Wednesday I saw a child, seven or eight years old, whose limbs were the size of sticks and whose hanging head and closed eyes gave every indication of death.

Occasionally, during a boat trip across the harbor, corpses can be seen floating by.

Oddly enough, for a town that has been through the war, there appeared plenty of cigarettes and prewar liquor. There seemed to be lots of cosmetics and silk stockings.

Democratic Public Opinion in Western Germany Is Reviving

LONDON, Sept. 8 (Reuters).—A revival of democratic public opinion in Western Germany, a speeding up of the purge of Nazi officials under its impulse, reorganization of the left-wing and centre parties accompanied by the appearance of a few thinly disguised nationalist groups, and a [illegible] larity of Berlin radio in the Western zone, are some of the chief results of the Potsdam decision to admit democratic parties and a free press throughout Germany, reports from the British and American zones show.

Some of the notorious "black spots" where Nazi officials were most strongly entrenched have been cleared up. In the British zone, Dr. Hagemann, chief administrator of Hanover Province, has been dismissed as an undesirable character following public left-wing criticism of his record of service under the Nazis, and the appearance of British support for his Hanoverian separatist party has been removed.

In American-occupied Bremen right-wing Mayor Vagts has been replaced by Councillor Kaiser, a Social-Democrat with a record of underground struggle in the local anti-Fascist fighting community.

American policy in Bavaria, which tended to favor right-wing Catholics, is being brought into line with the more liberal practice in Southwestern Germany following the recall of Col. Charles E. Keegan.

The darkest political corner is still British-occupied Schleswig Holstein, once the stronghold of Admiral Karl Doenitz' surrender "government." The provincial administrator, Dr Hoevermann, is a former right-wing Liberal who joined the Nazi party in 1937 to keep himself in office. It is perhaps no accident that this is the only province from which the formation of a "Liberal" party is reported.

Elsewhere, however, the only parties developing on a serious scale are the Social Democrats, Communists, and the Catholic centre.

Communists have set up two district headquarters in the British zone at Essen and Hanover and are proclaiming three-party coalitions as their aim.

LT.-CMDR. R. M. PETRIE

A letter commending Lt.-Cmdr. Robert M. Petrie for "valuable contributions to anti-submarine warfare," has been received by Dr. Joseph A. Pearce, director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, Saanich. Lt.-Cmdr. Petrie, who has been on loan to the navy's operational research branch, returned to Victoria on Thursday with his wife and their children, Robert and Patricia, and after a week's holiday will resume his work as astronomer at the observatory.

The letter, signed by Capt. Johnson, director of operational research for the Royal Canadian Navy, thanks Dr. Pearce for releasing Lt.-Cmdr. Petrie temporarily.

Lt.-Cmdr. Petrie has served at Ottawa, Halifax and Newfoundland.

Another member of the observatory staff who has been engaged in naval operational research work is Dr. Andrew McKellar, who was seconded to the British Admiralty and has been in England. Dr. McKellar is expected here shortly.

First Shore Post

CMDR. E. T. SIMMONS

It is a long hop from Beacon Hill Park to the bridge of the R.C.N. frigate H.M.C.S. Beacon Hill. It is even farther to the sacred precincts of the executive office, H.M.C.S. Stadacona, Halifax. But Commander E. T. "Ted" Simmons, D.S.O., D.S.C., R.C.N.V.R., formerly of Victoria, recently appointed executive officer of Stadacona, made it after five years of war fraught with enough adventure for a lifetime.

Aside from short instructional spells, this is the first shore appointment for the former commander of Victoria's own ship since he went to sea in 1940.

Cmdr. Simmons was first lieutenant of the corvette H.M.C.S. Chambly when she rammed and sank a German submarine during escort duty in the Atlantic. For his part in this action he was awarded the D.S.C., and was later awarded the D.S.O. when his first command, H.M.C.S. Port Arthur, destroyed an Italian submarine with depth charges in the Mediterranean.

After serving for a period as instructor in mid-ocean attack, Cmdr. Simmons completed a command course, and in the Summer of 1944 took over H.M.C.S. Beacon Hill.

When Cmdr. Simmons returns to civil life, he will probably settle with his wife and two small daughters at Vancouver.

Dies of Beriberi

Bdr. Arthur Martin [illegible]roft, R.A., died of beriberi in a Japanese prison camp in Thailand on September 28, 1943, according to word received from the British Under-Secretary for War by his parents, Lt.-Col. and Mrs. J. G. Rycroft, 45 MacQuina Road.

Born in England, Bdr. Rycroft attended Boys' Central School here. After serving with the 5th B.C. Coast Brigade, N.P.A.M., he went to England in 1934, and joined an anti-aircraft unit of Royal Artillery.

He served in Egypt, and was on the Libyan border during the Italian invasion of Ethiopia. His unit was sent to Singapore before the war, and it was there that he fell prisoner.

Prisoners Released

Telegrams that two Victoria prisoners had been liberated at Hongkong were received from Ottawa by next-of-kin yesterday, while relatives of four others waited anxiously for news.

Sigmn. Anthony F. Grimston, son of Mrs. M. Grimstone, 2316 Howard Street, and Sgmn. A. R. Squires, whose wife lives [illegible] 1409 [illegible]amosun Street, were reported safe in Allied hands.

No word has yet been received of the liberation of Staff Sgt. Thomas Barton, whose wife lives at 1421 Vancouver Street; Pte. Snellie, son of Mrs. M. O. Speller, 390[illegible] Carey Road; L.-Cpl. R. [illegible] H. Acton, son of Leonard Acton, 1703 Fairfield Road, and Sgmn. E. E. Naylor, son of J. E. Naylor, 1303 Gladstone Avenue.

Four Brothers Serve

Cpl. Douglas Price, R.C.C.S., is expected home on Monday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Price, 1539 Richmond Avenue. A veteran of Italy, Belgium and Germany, Cpl. Price was badly wounded on February 5, 1944, and spent six months in hospital.

His English bride will follow him shortly.

Ldg. Seaman [illegible] Price, his brother, who was on one of the three Canadian corvettes taking part in the "D" Day invasion, has been spending leave with his parents and will report to H.M.C.S. Naden on Wednesday. His ship escorted other vessels which were towing "Mulberry" floating docks.

Twin brothers, Cpl. Hugh Price and Cpl. Donald Price, are serving with the R.C.A.F., a long distance apart. Hugh, with the Elephant Squadron of supply-dropping Dakotas in India, hopes to come home shortly with his pet monkey, "Chico."

Donald is stationed at Prince Rupert. He survived three forced landings with injuries while flying in drogue-towing aircraft at a bombing and gunnery school at Dafoe, Sask.

On Way to Island

Two Victoria and three other Island airmen were listed by the R.C.A.F. as being repatriated aboard Ss. Empress of Scotland, expected to dock at Quebec City today. They are:

L.A.C. A. O. King, 723 Field Street; F.O. K. Smith, Cordova Bay; Cpl. T. C. Baillie, Port Alberni; Flt. Lt. H. C. Upton, Duncan, and Cpl. E. J. Robinson, Nanaimo.

Homes Make a Nation

Homes make a nation. Governments, parliaments, councils and the like may write its laws, but these can be only the expression of what is developed in the homes of the land. It is there, in the home, that human attitudes are fixed and growing minds developed. If they are reverent homes, it will be a God-fearing nation. If they are thrifty homes it will be a solvent land. If they are industrious homes, the nation will have few idlers. If they are free homes, it will be a free land.

Canada has some useful models to go by. Those who pioneered and opened this land built sound homes. They cleared away the wilderness and established themselves and their families by honest hard work. They had few aids other than their own resources, but those were both deep and wide. They knew that honest children made honest men and women. They knew that health was the first essential to right thinking and doing. They dared much, believing that Providence had given them both the vision and a broad, new land.

One hundred years ago on the stony farms of Ontario men and women lived out a hard life. They had hard muscles, clear heads and warm hearts. Their faith in themselves and their trust in Providence were beacons to steer by. Slowly the land yielded and gave of its plenty. These men and women of Upper Canada built something into this nation that remains to this day. They owned themselves. Theirs was a sturdy and forthright independence. Their freedoms were real, and earned.

What we all learn, even if slowly, is that pioneering never ceases. Today's generations are pioneering in an entirely new age. Their wilderness is still there, and must be cleared away. They, too, have need of reverence, of thrift, of industry, of the wit of the human brain, and the kindness of the feeling heart. Nor is their vision less. It can be vastly more. There is a world to know, and to develop. And yet, as of old, the home is the centre of all this. It is there that a nation waxes or wanes. What children learn at their mother's knee—of piety, of truth, of honesty, of patience, of tolerance, of charity, of industry, even of freedom itself—they one day carry into the world. The challenge, forever, will be there.

World Affairs

At least three international agreements will go before the Canadian Parliament this term for ratification or other supporting action. Canada's ratification of the United Nations' Charter is a foregone conclusion, and that may be the most important item of business of the whole session. Not far behind is the Bretton Woods agreement, wherein the nations of the world are trying to find a successful method of straightening out the jumbled currencies and of resuming world trade. Canadian participation in the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration for the relief of physical distress is the third item, and again an example of the working co-operation that will be needed to restore peace in every land.

There is no question about Canada's ratification of the United Nations Charter. This country helped to draft it. A non-partisan delegation attended at San Francisco, and wrote into the instrument some useful and worthwhile ideas. The Prime Minister of Canada was present in person to initial the draft, and the Charter itself will now be laid before Parliament for full ratification under the constitutional procedure of this country. The Charter aims at the maintenance of peace, once it is restored, by the removal of the root causes of war. It would outlaw war, and substitute an international code of conduct for nations, subject to world law. As Field Marshal Smuts has said, this is the world's last chance if civilization is to survive.

The Bretton Woods agreement is a highly technical matter. Its aim, however, is to facilitate the resumption of trade around the world through revolving credits and a definite basis of exchange. It proposes the creation of an International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, and the operation of an International Monetary Fund; to both of which consenting nations would be asked to subscribe. Canada's putative investment, actual and contingent, would be close upon $1,000,000,000. For that, however, we would acquire important trading facilities and some guaranteed rights. The plan will be debated at length, one imagines, by reason of its wide implications. Under it, world trade would operate under some controls which would have a bearing internally and externally in every land. Canada participated at the conference, and has shown considerable interest in the plan.

This nation's participation in the "Unrra" program, to the limit of what is feasible and practicable, is hardly in doubt. The distressed populations of the world remain to be re-established in such a way that they can take hold and carry on again for themselves. It is a question of emergency food and clothing, of shelter and fuel, of restoring farms and foundation livestock, of many items concerned with the subsistence of a nation. The quota plan is likely to be proposed, and it remains to be seen what will be asked of this nation in that connection.

All three measures are an earnest that the world is thinking in terms of international concurrence, to do what will have to be done in one form or another to clear away the ruin of war, and to prepare for the saner and more livable days of peace. Such concurrences, and perhaps many others, are the best guarantee [illegible] to work for it, one step at a time. To those who have studied it, the United Nations' Charter is a long step forward. May there be many more.

Swollen Budgets

Australia has set the pace for one form of reconversion that will be thoroughly understood by her people, that is the reduction of the income tax by twelve and a half per cent. The Canberra Administration has also introduced a reduction in the sales tax bearing on other items. This, the reconversion of swollen wartime budgets to something less onerous upon the public, may only be achieved in gradual steps. Australia, however, has begun, and her people will acquire fresh confidence from that.

If the Speech from the Throne at Ottawa had revealed an intention on the part of the Mackenzie King Administration to lower the wartime income tax by twelve and a half per cent, and to reduce the sales tax applicable in certain instances, we can imagine that it would have been studied with great interest throughout this land. No such indication has been given. What Ottawa proposes to do with the income tax and the corporation tax, under both of which there are extensive refunds to be handed back to the people, has not been disclosed. There has been talk of a reduction in the "lower income brackets," but nothing definite.

Meanwhile, the only way that swollen budgets can come down is to cut them.

September Days

To many living on the Western slopes, September is the most beautiful month in the year. There is the fullness of the harvest, and a riot of warm colors that gladdens the earth's surface of a while. Nature, toiling for many months, is producing her bounty with an honest blush of pride. No artist could catch the hues which succeed one another in the changing foliage. Wild ducks in the stubble field, the linnet hunting on an apple bough, are at home or homing. The earth pulses with its yield. The air is enriched with the mingled scents of all that has matured and ripened.

It begins at dawning, when the sun's first light discovers a freshly painted world. The first red light is not redder than the bark of the arbutus tree, with its wayward arms. Descending, the sunlight finds the chestnut arrayed in yellow gold. Green in the distance stand the fir-clad hills, with here and there a western maple or a dogwood—salmon pink. At their feet is the bracken, crisp and dun, and many a forest weed that puts to shame a garden flower. The roses in their cultivated beds have rifled the palette of its warmest tints and hues. There is a last rush of blooming everywhere.

It does not end at night, when the sun takes back its lifting rays. One by one the glorious colors leave the land, only to renew themselves all over in the western sky. Opalescent evening clouds are wells of dropping fire. The golds, the crimsons and the greys stray home like sheep returning to the fold. The sun goes down, and pastel shades recede before advancing darkness. The last light leaves the western ridges, while ebony silhouettes march before the drifting clouds. Night comes with its memories, rich with heady harvest scents.

Seen in Passing

The almost universal love of artless and undesigning young children might reform the world if it could be carried on into later life, and if those children primarily remained undesigning. No normal person regards a child with hatred or suspicion. No one blames a child for the ways of parents. Most feuds stop with adults, and do not descend to children. In short, a child is taken on merit, with a willing allowance on the side of goodwill. And there, disguise it how we will and do, is the formula for successful human relations.

Oft, in the Stilly Night

Oft, in the stilly night,
Ere Slumber's chain has bound me,
Fond Memory brings the light
Of other days around me;
The smiles, the tears,
Of boyhood's years,
The words of love then spoken;
The eyes that shone,
Now dimm'd and gone,
The cheerful hearts now broken!
Thus, in the stilly night,
Ere Slumber's chain has bound me,
Sad Memory brings the light
Of other days around me.

When I remember all
The friends, so link'd together,
I've seen around me fall,
Like leaves in wintry weather,
I feel like one
Who treads alone
Some banquet-hall deserted,
Whose lights are fled,
Whose garlands dead,
And all but he departed!
Thus, in the stilly night,
Ere Slumber's chain has bound me,
Sad Memory brings the light
Of other days around me.

THE SOCIAL AND POLITICAL CONSEQUENCES OF POTSDAM—II.

An argument advanced for expropriating private industrial property in Germany, by the manner of collecting reparations agreed to in Potsdam, is that the "industrialists" were Hitler's chief support, and therefore de-industrialization by expropriation is de-Nazification.

There has been a build-up in all Allied countries of the theory that Nazism won its sole support from Conservatives, and that the only opposition was from the extreme left.

This is largely propaganda. Nazism was a mass movement. Only a limited number of industrialists helped Hitler in any way to come to power. His mass strength came from the lower middle classes proletarianized by inflation and depression, and from unemployed youth. Nazism appealed to the radical dissatisfaction of the masses and to nationalism. Industrialists who supported it originally did so because they stupidly thought they could control and modify it.

The active resistance to Nazism inside Germany, which culminated in a direct attempt to overturn the regime in July, 1944, comprised persons from Conservative ranks through all shades of democratic German opinion.

Himmler hanged hundreds of active conspirators between January and October, 1944. With few exceptions they were not left-wing radicals but civilized persons interested in the restoration of order and law, some of them aristocrats with names as old as German history, and all of them with a deep moral or religious sense of personal responsibility.

The liaison man of the movement on whose head Himmler placed a reward of 1,000,000 marks, Karl Goerdeler, was a vehement anti-Nazi from before the Hitler revolution until the moment when he swung from the gallows. He wrote his political views in a testament deposited abroad.

In Great Britain serious work has been done among German prisoners of war, sorting them into "Nazi," "Anti-Nazi," and "Reformable." This has not entailed superficial questionnaires, but probings covering months of work with individuals and small groups.

The researches revealed interesting things. Most of the prisoners in the earlier days of the war were Nazi. These, however, had to be classified into two groups. The unthinking, who merely parroted the slogans, and the philosophically convinced. The arguments of the latter followed a line which has had support in German mentality since Nietzsche, and was thoroughly explored and expressed in Spengler. This attitude could be summarized as follows:

"Western so-called 'Christian' democratic civilization is moribund. It is technologically advanced but spiritually decadent, having lost the primitive will to live of the barbaric but strong and young peoples. Whatever happens, the Western democracies will not be victors. If Germany loses, only Russia will win. We and Russia, though bitter enemies, represent the only movements and states which have survival value. Europe must be unified and can only be unified by force; terror is the weapon of all revolutions and we are making the European revolution. But if we fail, Europe will nevertheless be unified by force. Our mission will descend on the Russians."

These Nazis when asked in which direction they would orient themselves, in case of defeat, answered almost without exception: To the Russians.

The minority of clearly conscious anti-Nazis, almost without exception, said: "We hate Nazism because it is a reign of terror destroying the roots of German and European civilization. We want the restoration of justice and law, the end of persecutions, and the revival of civilization in a free United States of Europe."

In Italy the radical Communists in the revolutionary underground movement, led by Ruggiero Grieco—as contrasted with the open politicals, and exponents of the Popular Front, led by Togliatti, both wings of the same party—are recruiting former Fascists to their ranks. All they must do is repent, be converted, and prepare to become instruments for the leftist revolution. The alternative is to be "liquidated." The radical Fascists, like the radical Communists, have had training in the "technique of the coup d'etat," and the organization of terror; they are far more mentally conditioned for a switch to some leftist revolutionism than to democracy.

Thus, if we take into consideration the attitude expressed by Nazi prisoners of war, the composition of the internal German anti-Nazi movement, and the facts in Italy, there is reason for believing that it will be Nazis who will disappear into Communist ranks to become servants of the next—and this time they think successful — European revolution.

Everything Potsdam announced for defeated Germany will contribute to this development. The national sentiment, inflamed by cutting away from the Reich a quarter of the arable land in Eastern territories, German for centuries, will see hope for reunion only in a Sovietized Reich. De-industrialization will give the coup de grace to what is left of the middle classes. Economic chaos and misery will inflame the working masses. And the German Nazis, after a few trips to Canossa, will probably recognize that they have an occupational interest in the next revolution. After all, conspiracy has been their job!

CANDID CANINE COMMENT

Germany's Surrender Negotiations Recounted

Part IV

COUNT FOLKE BERNADOTTE
(North American Newspaper Alliance)

Shortly after the curtain had gone down on the drama of the European war, I had a long conversation with Walther Schellenberg, chief of German intelligence. His account of the final stage and what went on behind the scenes—for the accuracy of which he himself must be responsible—is of such interest in the light of history that its main points should be given publicity.

"In 1943," Schellenberg said, "plans had been prepared and approved by Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and Martin Borman, the man closest to Hitler, for an attack on Switzerland. Allied landings in Italy seemed to make this necessary. I opposed these plans tooth and nail. I even tried to contact friends in Switzerland. Finally the idea was abandoned, mainly because of economic considerations. This was only one of the occasions when I attempted actively to oppose official German policy.

"The upper strata of the Nazi regime was corrupt through and through. In my opinion, the one exception was the head of the S.S., Heinrich Himmler.

"As I saw that the Hitler-Ribbentrop policy must lead to catastrophe, it became clear that some counter-balance had to be created. The only one who could do this, I felt, was Himmler.

"I attempted to approach him and to obtain such influence over him as to use his power as I desired. It was my conviction that Germany had somehow to get out of the war with the western powers.

"As the military and political situation grew more critical, I became the object of special notice by the Gestapo and the security police.

"My most active and dangerous enemies were Bormann, and the head of the security police, Ernst Kaltenbrunner. Indeed, Kaltenbrunner, 18 months earlier, declared he had complete evidence that I was employed by the British secret service. He did all in his power to trap me.

"Such was the situation when, early in February, 1945, the German minister in Stockholm reported that Count Bernadotte was leaving for Berlin to see Himmler. Twice that day Ribbentrop sent his personal secretary to see me in order to find out if I had arranged this through personal connections in Sweden.

"I told the man that I had no knowledge of the projected visit, and informed Himmler as well as Kaltenbrunner about these conversations. Himmler was interested but also annoyed that the arrangements for the journey should have gone through the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. This meant that he had to treat the count's visit as official, and report it to Hitler.

"Himmler instructed Kaltenbrunner to find a favorable opportunity to mention the matter to Hitler and to try to ascertain his feelings.

"The Fuehrer was definitely opposed. 'Buffoonery of that kind won't help us in this war,' was Hitler's comment.

"When Count Bernadotte arrived in Berlin, I at once telephoned Himmler and begged him not to ignore this gesture by Sweden. I said that he absolutely must receive the Red Cross delegate.

"After a great many objections, Himmler agreed that Kaltenbrunner should try to arrange for Ribbentrop to see Count Bernadotte without Hitler's knowledge, and without letting Ribbentrop know that the Fuehrer had forbidden his reception. If Ribbentrop agreed, then Kaltenbrunner and I could also see the count, and Himmler would gain time to see how things developed.

"I saw in this visit my last opportunity to achieve what had always been at the back of my mind: Somehow to steer Germany out of the war.

"I had to get around Kaltenbrunner. I complimented him on the way he had conducted his first conversation with Count Bernadotte, and told him that, in the present desperate situation, Ribbentrop must be removed, and he (Kaltenbrunner) appointed Minister for Foreign Affairs in his place. Kaltenbrunner swallowed the bait with such enthusiasm that I found it difficult to control the situation.

"When we then telephoned Himmler, Kaltenbrunner insisted with burning conviction that Himmler had to meet the count, even though Hitler had expressly forbidden it.

"But when the meeting took place, Kaltenbrunner was not asked to attend. This made him furious and he soon showed himself as hostile to me as ever. The intrigues began again.

"Kaltenbrunner heaped reproaches on me because I had made Himmler altogether too well disposed toward Count Bernadotte, and enlisted the services of Gruppenfuehrer Muller, acting chief of the Gestapo, who raised every kind of objection.

"I visited Himmler at his headquarters and had it out with him. I told him that it was evident that Germany was about to collapse, and that he had to make the most of the count's presence in Germany. I said that he had to act independently to steer the German ship into a peaceful haven before it capsized, and suggested that he should ask the count to fly to General Eisenhower and present an offer of surrender.

"The talk became more and more emotional as it went on. I said that Himmler's place was in Berlin and not with an army group. This was the second time Hitler's entourage had succeeded in getting Himmler away from the capital, and he should return there immediately to prepare for peace, with or without using force.

"At last Himmler gave way, and that night I received very wide powers to negotiate.

"However, the next morning, he rang up and took back most of what he had said. He only authorised me to maintain contact with Count Bernadotte, and in certain circumstances to try to persuade him to see Eisenhower on his own initiative.

"From that moment, early in March, there was a daily tug-of-war between Himmler and me. Although neither Kaltenbrunner nor any of the others around Hitler were aware of it."

From the Seattle Real Estate Board, Bulletin: "It is definitely poor practice to advance the argument that home prices are all reduced. Such sweeping statements will react unfavorably upon both the public and the realtor. It is true that some prices have been revised, but in such cases they are nearer true value, with less inflation behind them. Prices in general are not coming down. Supply and demand control prices, and until replacement costs are definitely reduced, we shall still find home costs stable and firm. A home well-priced today will probably retain that value for a long time to come" . . . Russian children on entering school for the first time are handed a four-page leaflet containing the following rules of behavior: "Obey the principals and your teachers without a word. Always be polite to elders. Be attentive and courteous. Behave nicely in school, on the streets and in society. Do not curse or use rough expressions. Do not smoke or gamble. Keep your clothes neat and clean. Take care of your shoes. Stand up when a teacher or a principal enters or leaves the room. Boys must take their hats off" . . . The Alaska Highway was constructed by 10,000 soldiers and 6,000 civilians . . . A strange jet-propelled automobile has been designed by a former Fleet Air Arm pilot at London, England. It will have a body 23 feet long and a single wheel 12 feet in diameter, with two small wheels for starting. The pilot estimated the machine will be capable of a speed of 500 miles per hour.

CHLORINATION

Sir,—Mr. James Morton's letter on the above subject in today's issue moves me to write a short account of my experience with chlorinated water.

I suppose I am one of the few [illegible] former correspondent, having just passed by seventy-second birthday. Mr. Carter of Messrs. McGill and Orme, the well-known druggists, will bear me out that on April 30, 1944, (days before the public announcement that chlorination had already started) I told him I thought that chlorination must have commenced as otherwise I could think of nothing that would have caused my internal trouble and he replied that it was quite possible as they had put up more prescriptions for dysentery in the past few days than for months past.

I bought distilled water at that time for drinking purposes and have done so since. Whenever I drink "tap" water as I have to in tea or coffee when visiting socially, I limit myself to about half a cup or I have to suffer the consequences.

A correspondent asked the other day what was the cost of chlorination. To me, it has so far been $85.15 for the purchase of distilled water and this, of course, on top of the monthly water bill.

HORACE TYZACK.

CHLORINATION

Sir,—Replying to the letter of Mr. James Morton in your issue of the 8th instant: There is no doubt that it was the effort of the authorities concerned to try to withhold the date when chlorine was first put into our water. Mayor McGavin definitely stated that the people would be advised of this, but the people were not officially advised until two weeks later. We have no evidence as to what quantity of chlorine was first applied in order to make it, if possible, imperceptible; but it is a fact that we received complaints from a number of people that the water had been chlorinated at the very time it took place. We also detected the change in the water immediately, and it took some considerable time to induce ourselves to drink it. The secrecy on the part of the authorities in this regard was only equaled by that of the Department of National Health, which used the emergency of war to take from us our pure water.

The interesting part of your correspondent's letter is his insistence that the public should bow to the knowledge of the expert. In this, we can only repeat, that when the experts differ, as they undoubtedly do on this question, then it is a matter for the jury. Dr. Price, a former medical health officer of the city, together with our present medical health officer, gave it as their solid opinion that chlorination was unnecessary. In this, the water commissioner concurred. Answering the Department of National Health's submission, that the proposed chlorination was necessary as a war measure, Dr. Felton, in his letter to the Council of August 12, 1942, stated as follows:

"While I am of opinion that there are certain vulnerable points in the system where sabotage or enemy action could cause contamination of the water, I do not consider that even chlorination of the water would sufficiently guard against such contamination at all times."

Laymen are quite capable of assessing the value of the evidence of experts. They are called upon to do this on juries; and also they must decide for themselves whether they will follow the advice of their physician, or whether they will seek advice from another physician. This privilege is recognized amongst experts. Truth is a growing thing. Democracy does not accept dogmatism. Never must the door be closed to examination. Was it not our closed eyes, with experts in control, political, diplomatic and consular, which brought us into two world wars?

Chairman, Anti-Chlorination League.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt Drydock at any time add 29.8 feet to the height of high water as above given.

"I'm revising my WILL!"

An old will might do more harm to an estate than no will at all. That's why many people revise their will every two or three years.

This enables them to keep abreast of current taxation, happenings in the family circle and changes in financial affairs. It is a very sound practice.

We will be glad to work with you and your family lawyer in reviewing your will so that you may know it does take care of present day conditions.

A friendly talk with us about your estate problems will not obligate you.

Operated in Prison Camp Without Drugs, Instruments

HONGKONG, Sept. 8 (CP)—Working without drugs and with only crudely - improvised instruments, Maj. J. W. B. Crawford, of Winnipeg, saved many lives of Canadians and Britons confined in the Japanese prisoner of war camp at Samshuipo, released prisoners said today.

Praising the courage and surgical skill of Maj. Crawford, the former prisoners told how he rigged up an operating room and equipped it with crude instruments, using a razor blade as a scalpel.

The Japanese had refused the major drugs and instruments and he was forced to operate by the light of a lamp burning peanut oil. His operating table consisted of two rough boards covered with sorely-worn towels. Even the razor blade was at a premium, prisoners said.

But it was on such makeshift arrangements that everyone lived in the camp. The camp shoemaker, for instance, fashioned sandals out of old suitcase buckles, army shorts and parts of old tires smuggled into the camp by Chinese who sold their wares at the equivalent of a month's salary received by the Canadians from the Japanese.

German Prisoners Work in Ottawa

OTTAWA, Sept. 8 (CP)—Historical note: The German army finally got into this Canadian capital yesterday.

A group of prisoners of war was put to work doing the heavy lifting in moving the gratuity branch of the Canadian army from one building outside the city to another inside.

Bracken to Lead In Criticism of Throne Speech

OTTAWA, Sept. 8 (CP).—The inaugural formalities over, the way now is open for debate in the House of Commons to take on a critical tone when Opposition members deal with the Government's programs forecast in the Throne Speech and its record of past performances.

The first criticism will be heard when John Bracken, national Progressive Conservative leader, resumes the debate on the address in reply to the Throne Speech which was set off yesterday by two young veterans of the Second Great War.

Mr. Bracken, elected to the Commons for the first time in the general election of June 11, will make his first formal address in the Commons as Leader of the Official Opposition. He is expected to deal at length with the Government's programs and record.

Studying Star 8,300 Light Years Distant

A Nova Aquilae, seen from the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory here on September 1, is 8,300 light years away, Dr. J. A. Pearce, director, explained yesterday.

From studies of spectrographs taken of the star, Dr. Pearce calculates its luminosity to be 80,000 times that of the sun.

Dr. K. O. Wright, who is also studying the star, said that a nova is a star which by some unexplained explosion suddenly flares up, giving forth thousands of times its original light. It usually dies down again after two or three weeks, and after some months returns to its original intensity.

Great masses of gas thrown off by the explosion provide the means for taking spectrographs and making calculations.

The present nova, situated in the constellation of Aquila the Eagle, is steadily diminishing in brightness.

Singapore Sees Victory's Fruit

SINGAPORE, Sept. 8 (CP).—Face-conscious Singapore savored the full flavor of victory today.

Ashore, the city's once arrogant Japanese masters were ordered out in pick and shovel parties.

In the wreckage-littered waters of the great Singapore naval base, guns of the British destroyer Rotherham ruled single-handed—symbol of naval might against a background in which loomed the hulks of two Japanese cruisers battered in the Battle of the Coral Sea and bearing the scars of Superfortress raids.

British authorities, wise to the importance of "face" in Oriental minds, underlined that face when labor squads were conscripted and ordered to parade at the Municipal Building. They will perform such manual tasks as filling trenches.

LOOTERS WILL FACE PENALTY OF DEATH

Looting, believed encouraged by the departing Japanese and still continuing, presents the most acute immediate problem. Many Chinese are being jailed and a new order holds Japanese conspirators liable to a death penalty.

Inspection showed that the only threat the Japanese Navy had packed in this area for a long time prior to the surrender was a fleet of some 70 Kamikaze speedboats.

The Japanese flagship from which the vanished naval forces for southern waters were divorced has been destroyed.

Lived Here 54 Years

Funeral services for the late William Acton, 709 Discovery Street, former grocer and resident of Victoria for 54 years, who died at the Royal Jubilee Hospital at the age of 80 on Friday, will be held at 1:30 p.m. on Tuesday in Sands Mortuary chapel, with interment at Ross Bay Cemetery, Rev. Dr. A. E. Whitehouse will officiate.

Born in England, Mr. Acton operated a grocery business on Yates Street until his retirement 15 years ago. He is survived by one son, Leonard, and two daughters, Mrs. Amy Clayton and Mrs. Blanche Moore; four grandsons and two grandaughters, all of Victoria; two sisters, Mrs. S. Jenkins, Victoria, and Mrs. Annie Boughton, in England; also a brother, Herbert, in England.

May Lose Votes Here

"There is grave danger that a large proportion of the citizens of this district will be disenfranchised, due to the faulty methods used in compiling the voters' list," Harold E. Thayer, secretary of the Victoria C.C.F. district executive, charged yesterday.

Persons find deputy registrars absent when they call during lunch hours, or shortly after 5 p.m., and are unable to register, Mr. Thayer claimed. He said election commissioners receive no receipt for registrations turned in to the Provincial Registrar's office.

Mr. Thayer suggested that registration offices be kept open until 9 p.m. every night during the final week before thee voters' list closes, and that their locations and hours be fully advertised.

THINNED RANKS

OSGODBY, Lincolnshire, England (CP)—The 1st Battalion of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, just home from Italy to receive their colors here, was disappointed because not one piper or N.C.O. who was in the parade six years ago was present.

Finds Fiancee at Hongkong Prison

MANILA, Sept. 9 (Sunday) (AP).—The romance of American Army Captain Melville Merritt (address unavailable) and Miss Shelia Graham, a beautiful British girl of Hongkong, has been resumed after a wartime recess.

Merritt and Miss Graham, prewar residents of Hongkong, had planned to be married, but the Japanese interfered and both were placed in the Stanley internment camp.

Merritt was repatriated on the Gripsholm, joined the air force and learned to fly. He returned to the Orient with the American Air Force in China.

When American planes began flying over the Stanley camp with supplies recently, the internees noted that one plane always peeled off and flew low over the barracks occupied by Miss Graham and her family, and tried to drop stuff at her front door. Somebody in the cockpit always waved when it flew away.

It was, of course, Merritt, who had returned to Hongkong after the Japanese surrender.

A few days ago—on the first day possible—he landed at the Kaitak airfield and rushed to the Stanley camp, where he found her safe, healthy and as pretty as ever.

"Their reunion was a special feature of our liberation," said other internees.

The story of the war-interrupted romance was brought here by liberated internees of Hongkong and by Canadian Press correspondent Bill Stewart, who visited the Stanley camp on a flying trip to Hongkong.

I.O.D.E. Chapters

At the recent meeting of Camosun Chapter, Mrs. A. Mainprize announced that the chapter had realized the sum of $236.52 as net profit at the I.O.D.E. garden party, when the tea was convened by the Camosun members. Treasurer's report showed a balance of $27.37 in the War Services account, and $5.43 in the general account. Mrs. J. Stewart reported that 309 magazines had been turned in during the month, and Mrs. J. McPhee completed 18 housewives for the Navy League.

A request by the educational secretary, Mrs. McArthur, for $25 scholarship and $35 bursary funds was granted at a meeting of Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter recently, at which Mrs. D. J. Mugford presided. Members stood in silent tribute to the memory of Miss McMullen. A letter of thanks was read from the Royal Navy for donations to the British sailors. Mrs. Williams suggested that members find some way of caring for the tree that Hon. Winston Churchill planted during a visit here 16 years ago. A violin recital will be given by a bursary holder at the home of Mrs. W. Nichol, St. Charles Street, on September 20 at 8 p.m.

MOKHATLONG, Basutoland (CP)—Anti-soil erosion work now is being carried on throughout this district on a rapidly increasing scale and already hundreds of acres of cultivated lands have been protected from erosion by contour furrows and grass strips.

Countess Thanks Victoria Friends

Gratitude for very real help sent her by Victoria friends was expressed in a letter from the Comtesse de Suzannet to Mrs. F. Ebbs-Canavan. The Comtesse asked that her "deep appreciation and thanks to all the kind and generous friends and acquaintances whose names were signed in the booklet you sent" be made public.

"All this kindness has touched me more indeed than I can ever express," she stated. Comtesse de Suzannet, a former resident of Victoria, has been the heart of a group which worked for the Allies throughout the Nazi occupation of France, and was herself made prisoner for six months.

Funds for aid were raised here by the sale of "The Tale of a Belgian Hare." There are still a few copies remaining to be sold at Diggon & Hibben's Library, a member of the committee stated yesterday.

"There is nothing official about this visit," Mr. Gordon stated on being asked whether he would say anything about meat rationing, emergency shelter regulations, or other W.P.T.B. business. "I am taking my first holiday for a long time, and am seeing some old friends while here," he added.

Staying with Mr. Gordon at the Empress Hotel are Douglas Dewar, Penticton, former W.P.T.B. vice-chairman; James Stewart, Toronto, assistant general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and R. B. Buckerfield, Vancouver, former London, Eng., manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Victoria Hostess Club Closes After Five Years

Victoria Hostess Club, which opened its doors at 1052 Fort Street during Christmas week in 1940 and has since entertained more than half a million N.C.O.'s and men of the Navy, Army, Air Force and Merchant Marine, will hold its final dance on October 20.

Dances were the chief attraction, music being provided voluntarily by civilian and service orchestras. Games, magazines, stationery and writing tables were available, and from opening time at 3:30 p.m. until closing, a snack bar and dry canteen catered to the visitors.

Volunteer work was the rule at the Hostess Club. The 500 junior hostesses each paid a membership fee, and senior members looked after the dry canteen, entertainment, the kitchen, commissariat, games, checkrooms, music, dancing and collecting and washing of dishes.

CLUB SUPPORTED BY PRIVATE DONATIONS

Private subscription alone supported the club, although it was registered under the National War Charities Act in November, 1940. From that time to July 31, 1945, when the subscription books were closed, the sum of $5,731 was contributed. Salaries were paid to a caretaker and one assistant, and small profits were made on sales.

With few exceptions, all volunteer workers were with the club at its inception. Among them were Mrs. Alan Morkill, president; Mrs. H. F. Crowe, first vice-president; Mrs. J. Sutherland Brown, second vice-president; Mrs. Helen Hetherington, Mrs. Lennox Irving, Mrs. William C. Todd, Mrs. Maude Ross, Mrs. A. D. Bechtel, Mrs. Harry Briggs, Mrs. F. W. Hartley.

Others were Colonel the Hon. F. G. Hood and Mrs. Hood, Mrs. F. E. Winslow, Mrs. F. G. Mulliner, Mrs. A. W. Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Grant, Brig. J. Sutherland Brown and Reeves Cawley.

The governing board consisted of F. E. Winslow, Princess Chikmatoff, Mrs. J. W. Spencer, Mrs. Morkill, Mrs. Hetherington, W. H. M. Haldane and Mrs. H. F. Crowe.

JAMESON'S

Early September Brides Favor White for Formal Weddings

SINGLETON—SUTHERLAND

A princess gown of white brocaded satin with a sheer inset yoke was chosen by Dorothy Mirium Sutherland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Arnott, of Victoria, for her marriage Saturday, September 8, to Mr. Ralph Thomas Singleton, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Singleton, 1933 Crescent Road. Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns performed the ceremony in St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay; and the organist was in attendance. Given in marriage by her stepfather, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white satin with long pointed sleeves. Her full-length embroidered veil fell from a coronet of orange blossoms. Talisman roses comprised the shower bouquet. Mrs. Jack Rutherford, sister of the groom, was matron-of-honor, wearing a blue tulle floor-length skirt with matching lace top and halo cap with white tulle. Miss Peggy Davidson, of Vancouver, was bridesmaid; wearing a similar gown in pink tulle, with matching headdress. Both attendants carried shower bouquets of roses and gladioli. Mr. J. Rutherford was groomsman. Ushers were Mr. Douglas Cobbett and Mr. Dave Driver. The reception was held at 1933 Crescent Road, where the three-tier wedding cake was cut by the bride, and the toast was proposed by the best man. For a motor trip to the Interior the bride donned a three-piece suit of teal blue, with brown accessories. Her corsage was pink rosebuds. Mr. and Mrs. Singleton will reside in Victoria at 1773 Ross Street upon their return from their honeymoon. Two greataunts of the bride were honored guests: Mrs. Sarah Garnett, and Mrs. Louisa Archer, both of Vancouver.

SONGHURST—COLEMAN

A double-ring ceremony was performed before the candle-lit altar in our Lady Queen of Peace Church, Esquimalt, Friday evening, September 7, when Rev. Father Louis McLellan officiated at the marriage of Mary Claire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Coleman, 670 Pine Street, and Mr. Francis Edwin Songhurst, only son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Songhurst, Edmonton, Alberta. Mrs. A. Smith played the wedding music and the Ave Maria during the signing of the register. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown fashioned with fitted lace bodice, cap sleeves and sweetheart neckline, the full skirt falling in a slight train. Long satin mitts and a veil falling from a Mary Queen of Scots headdress completed her costume. She carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses, white carnations, swainsona and fern and wore a strand of tiny pearls and a wrist watch, gifts from the groom. Miss Dorothy Coleman, maid of honor, and Miss Norah Coleman, bridesmaid, attended their sister. They wore dresses of white floral taffeta, styled like the bride's gown, and halo hats of mauve tulle and carried arm bouquets of maize and mauve chrysanthemums. Mr. Richard Pacey was best man and Mr. Michael Coleman, the bride's brother, and Mr. Howard Nuttal ushered. For a honeymoon at Banff and Edmonton, the bride wore a dusty pink crepe frock with black topcoat with persian lamb tuxedo front and small black sequin hat. Her accessories were of black patent leather. On their return they will reside in Victoria, temporarily.

GREENWOOD—COPAS

Oak Bay United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Friday evening at 8 p.m., when Doreen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Copas, 1009 Falkland Road, exchanged marriage vows with Richard Greenwood, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Greenwood, of Victoria. Rev. W. W. McPherson was the officiating minister and Francis Stevenson played the wedding music. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of heavy slipper satin with full skirt, fitted lace-trimmed bodice, sweetheart neckline and lily point sleeves. Her full-length embridered silk net veil fell from a lace Juliet cap, and she carried an all-white bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis.

Mrs. Ray Rawnsley, as matron of honor, wore a blue crepe floor-length frock, Juliet cap with shoulder veil and carried a bouquet of white gladioli. The bride's cousin, Miss Barbara Campbell, in blue sheer, wore a Dolly Varden hat of blue and white net and carried a Colonial bouquet of white gladioli tips and blue cornflowers. During the signing of the register, Miss Jean Dumerton sang "O Promise Me." Acting as groomsman was Vernon Varney, while Captain George Little and Gordon Holmes were the ushers. After the ceremony a reception was held at Oak Bay Hall, where Mrs. Roy Copas assisted the young couple in receiving their guests. The bride's uncle, Duncan Campbell, proposed the toast to the bride. For a honeymoon Up-Island, Mrs. Greenwood traveled in a turquoise blue suit with brown accessories and corsage bouquet of gardenias. On their return, the young couple will make their home in Victoria.

REID—CONDER

Rev. H. Bolton officiated at the marriage of Evelyn Joyce Conder, daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. W. A. Conder, Saseenos, to Mr. Eldon LeRoy Reid, youngest son of Mrs. E. Hinkleman, Milne's Landing, on Saturday evening, September 1, at Holy Trinity Church, Sooke.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in white satin, with net veil and headdress of rosebuds and gardenias, which also adorned the white prayer book she carried.

The bridesmaids weree Miss Geraldine Conder, sister of the bride, and Miss Norma Sloith, who were dressed in blue and mauve respectively, and carried Colonial bouquets. Mr. Robert Reid, brother of the groom, acted as best man; and Mr. W. Baker and Mr. Walter Reid, uncle and berther of the groom, were ushers.

McCleggott, Toronto, in the chapel of St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, Friday evening, September 7, with Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns officiating. Given in marriage, the bride was charming in a two-piece powder blue dress with black accessories and rosebud corsage. Miss Jean Page, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, wearing a leaf green wool dress with brown accessories and gladioli corsage. Sgt. Ben Wilson, of North Bay, Ont., was best man. A small reception was held at the bride's home, where Mrs. R. B. Simms assisted Mrs. Page in receiving. Mr. J. D. Nicholson proposed the toast to the bride. Music was played by Miss Joy Simms. Inspect Potato Fields

Now is the time to inspect potato fields for aphid infestations and to take special precautions not to distribute aphids when roguing diseased plants, say officers of the Divisions of Plant Protection and Entomology, Dominion Department of Agriculture. The careless handling of the rogued, diseased, plants provides an excellent means of distributing disease-carrying aphids within the crop.

Diseased plants should not be left between rows, or carried to the headlands and discarded in the fence row. They should be placed in bags, immediately upon pulling (paper fertilizer bags are suitable), and taken entirely away from the plot and destroyed, so as to avoid aphids being dropped into the field from the diseased stock. Be sure to get the old seed piece when roguing. This will ensure against regrowth and reinfestation of diseased plants.

No Signs of Drop In Fur Prices

OTTAWA, Sept. 8 (CP).—Any women who have visions of a mink coat in the postwar period at a few hundred dollars probably will be disappointed, Sir Patrick Ashley Cooper, governor of the Hudson's Bay Co., said today at a press conference.

Prices of fur are controlled largely by demands of the international market with the United States at present absorbing large quantities of furs, Sir Patrick said. So long as general price levels are high there is no immediate likelihood of a reduction in fur prices. Fur preserves being operated by his company and by the provinces were resulting in an increase rather than a decrease in fur supplies.

Sir Patrick is in Canada in connection with the tour of Mulberry, the official War Office model of the prefabricated harbor used in the invasion of Normandy.

Early in the New Year it will move to Western Canada.

Announcement Likely On Daylight Saving

OTTAWA, Sept. 8 (CP).—State Secretary Martin said today an announcement may be expected some time next week as to whether Canada will discontinue daylight saving time.

A Washington dispatch today said Congressional leaders promised to set clocks back an hour in the United States.

Prince Robert Facilities Open For Prisoners

MANILA, Sept. 8 (CP).—Canadian soldiers liberated from prisoner of war camps find themselves almost completely ignorant of happenings outside their camps in the last three years and among the things they are most eager to know about are the new Allied weapons.

They are amazed by the weapons in the hands of servicemen here.

While the Canadians at Hongkong were awaiting evacuation to Manila, they spent their time visiting ships in Hongkong harbor and were particularly interested in the aircraft carriers.

They were keen to get information about Canadian army operations in Europe and many of them were surprised to learn that some officers whom they knew were of comparatively junior rank at the start of the war were now wearing red bands on their caps and were brigadiers, majors-generals and even lieutenant-generals.

A couple of Canadian officers who spent the duration at Samshuipo camp in Hongkong without the opportunity to gain promotion discovered they now were outranked by their wives in the C.W.A.C.

PRINCE ROBERT TURNS OVER ITS FACILITIES

For the Canadians at Samshuipo, one of the most cheering features of their liberation was the presence of the Canadian anti-aircraft cruiser Prince Robert which was tied up at the Kowloon dock and turned over all its facilities to the prisoners.

Those who visited the ship, whose bar was opened wide to them, got their first square meal since they were locked up. The effect of good food on the prisoners' appearances was something to marvel at. Within a few days the men lost many traces of their exhausting ordeal and looked two or three years younger.

A group of Canadians now at No. 29 replacement depot here have received their first mail dated mid-August and written on the blue airmail forms which get the speediest delivery.

Until the Canadians arrive at their homes, mail will be the most important thing in their lives, probably exceeding in value even the food and comforts of the reception camp.

No Forewarning On Meat Ration

EDMONTON, Sept. 8 (CP).—Meat rationing will came into effect on an unspecified Saturday night in Canada according to information given to a meeting of butchers and meat retailers last night. Officials of the Prices Board warned dealers they should obtain necessary stocks of the token to be used as "change" for meat coupons.

Major changes in the rationing system will be introduced by the new regulations, C. G. McKee, rationing superintendent said. Included in the new features is a token system, the inclusion of "fancy" meats in the ration schedule and the regrouping of meats into five classifications.

German Prisoners Returning Overseas

OTTAWA, Sept. 8 (CP).—Classified as "prisoners required for special purposes," a special trainload of German prisoners of war who have been held in Canada since early in the war now are en route to the east coast for return to Europe, it was learned today. Defence Headquarters would make no statement on the number of prisoners involved in the movement.

B.C. Electric to Assist Dealers

Institution of a co-operative promotional plan aimed at assisting independent electrical dealers of the Vancouver Island area during the postwar era was announced yesterday by sales department officials of the B.C. Electric Railway Co., Ltd.

W. E. HOLLAND

As part of the plan, the company will retire from the selling field embracing smaller electrical appliances. Advertising subsidies and other assistance will be given to small dealers to build up their postwar business.

Directing operation of the plan here will be W. Ernest Holland, who has been promoted to director of dealer development by the company. Mr. Holland is completing direction of the current market survey which has been under way in Greater Victoria for the past three months.

The company's sales department, in relinquishing the field of smaller appliances, will handle only the larger products such as gas and electric ranges, water heaters, refrigerators and a restricted number of appliance repair parts.

Under the advertising subsidy part of the plan, the company will make direct payments for advertising purposes to independent dealers in accordance with their volume of sales of specific types of appliances. In addition, a plan for co-operative advertising will place company advice at the disposal of the dealers.

The company will have at the disposal of dealers and their customers its various advisory services such as home service, kitchen planning, commercial lighting, home lighting, rural electrification and commercial and industrial gas services.

Report Improvements

Improvements recommended for the Saanich pound have all been carried out, it was reported at a recent meeting of the Victoria branch of the British Columbia Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

The inspector's report for August showed 47 animals humanely destroyed, 48 investigations carried out, and 57 inspections made. Nineteen animals were placed in homes and eight lost animals were returned to their owners.

It was noted that the Victoria branch has been accepted as an affiliated member of the American Humane Society.

Building Figures

Only six permits for new dwellings were issued by building departments of Greater Victoria during the past week. It was a heavy drop from the large totals reported during the Summer months.

Twelve permits issued by Victoria last week included two small dwellings and other construction totaling $12,210. Oak Bay issued two permits, including a seven-room house at 595 Monterey Avenue. The total was $7,675.

Saanich authorized two new homes and nine other permits for a total of $11,800. A five-room house will be built at 832 Leslie Drive, costing $4,500, and a four-room dwelling at 591 Kerr Avenue will cost $4,025.

A five-room dwelling costing $5,500 will be built on Head Street, Esquimalt. The other permit granted was for a $200 chicken house.

Expect Return to Military Production

SEATTLE, Sept. 8 (AP)—The outlook for a substantial return to military production soon at the Seattle and Renton Boeing plants is "highly encouraging," although there is no hope of restoring wartime production contracts, Senator Warren G. Magnuson told The Seattle Times today.

Magnuson said, "the feeling here in Washington is that Boeing is going to share, and share largely, in future heavy bomber production as well as in experimental and engineering work." His statement followed conferences with top-ranking officers with Army Air Forces Procurement.

BOBANET DISQUALIFIED

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (AP)—War Jeep, Chief Barker and Buzfuz finished in that order in the Discovery Handicap at Aqueduct today after the judges had viewed two sets of photos and had upheld a claim of foul that cost Bobanet, first to cross the finish line, the race.

WHY PAY MORE?
Why be satisfied with LESS?

Remember how Mercury was the talk of the country in those pre-war years? "A big beautiful car inside and out", they said. "Sure looks like a lot of money . . . but it's priced just a little above the low-priced cars!" Many people marvelled at its performance. "From zero to forty miles per hour in ten seconds!" they said . . . "Simply floats along the highway!" . . . "What amazes me is its economy!"

When the war came, you were certainly thankful you'd chosen Mercury. Its trouble-free performance and its low fuel consumption were a real boon when the shortage of service and of gasoline became acute.

Before very long, Mercury will be in the showrooms again. With its new beauty, its mechanical improvements and its still more economical operation it will certainly be the talk of the countryside. And sure enough, you'll be saying again as you said in pre-war days . . . "Why pay more? Why be satisfied with less?"

Police Continue Search for Thug

"We are working 24 hours a day, but there is nothing new to report," said Acting Chief Eric Elwell, Saanich Police, who is directing the search for the gunman who raided the Massey Goolden Summer home off Sayward Road on Tuesday and tried to kidnap Gillian Goolden, 16, for $50,000 ransom after robbing her mother of $12.

All Greater Victoria police departments and Royal Canadian Mounted Police are aiding in the search for a man described as being about 50 years old, six feet tall, heavy-set and speaking with a Scottish accent.

Remaining cool despite an automatic which was brandished in front of them, Mrs. Goolden and her daughters Ann and Gillian noted that the bandit had grey eyebrows, small blue-grey eyes, a long sharp nose, blotchy complexion, very small hands, blotchy on the back, with fat, stubby fingers. He wore a grey cap, dark grey overcoat with large brown buttons, grey trousers, red tie, and blue shirt with a small pattern on it. He drove an old car.

Veterans Veto Brown

Victoria tailors have learned it is wrong to show discharged soldiers "something in a nice brown tweed."

"They hate and avoid anything resembling brown or khaki," said one tailor. Sailors and airmen show a similar aversion to blue when they enter stores waving priority clothing certificates.

Only a discharged man's priority certificate will produce a tailored-to-measure suit inside three weeks, a survey of several Victoria clothing stores revealed. Civilians and discharged men buying a second suit have to wait from six weeks to three months.

Among ready-made suits, servicemen with certificates have a much wider choice, tailors explained.

With occupation troops and men pending repatriation or discharge still making large demands upon the cloth industry, the present shortage is considered likely to last another year.

Scottish tweeds and English worsteds are in heavy demand here, as always, but supplies are still strictly limited.

Eight motorists each paid fines of $2.50 for parking over an hour. Bail of $10 was estreated in a charge of intoxication when the accused failed to appear.

MARSEILLE, France, Sept. 8 (P)—Twenty British soldiers and airmen were killed Tuesday when a four-motored transport plane crashed and burned while taking off from Istres airport near here.

"Thanks to you, Grandpa Kruschen . . .

MY LUMBAGO IS A THING OF THE PAST"

If you have suffered from lumbago, you'll understand why this man wants to pass on the good news as to how he found relief. He says:

"I had a bad attack of lumbago. When I got into bed I had to stay in one position—I could not move for pain. I was given the tip to try Kruschen and I am very grateful for it. For after taking a few doses I felt some relief, and after taking one large bottle I am glad to say that my lumbago has become a thing of the past. And there is no trace of it coming back."—E.A.V.

There are many instances in which the Kruschen saline treatment has brought happy relief . . . just as it did for Mr. E.A.V. So why not try Kruschen yourself? But be sure to take it faithfully for as long as needed and thereby give Kruschen a chance to overcome conditions in your body which have probably taken months . . . or even years, to develop. There is always a cause for lumbago and with many persons the pain can be traced to toxins or poisons in the system. Kruschen's action is to help your organs of elimination and thereby bring you relief. Kruschen Salts are procurable at all drug stores: 25c. and 75c.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT OIL

HOW OIL WAS BORN
. . . MILLIONS* OF YEARS AGO . . .

Illustrated above is the birthplace of oil. Drawn from a model built by modern scientists, our picture shows the marine life that existed on the floors of ancient seas which covered large parts of our continents and more than half of Canada—500 million years before man came upon the earth.

A miracle took place

As generation after generation of these strange-looking plants and fish and underwater animals died, they settled down into the mud of the ocean bottom. And all the time, great pre-historic rivers were sweeping seaward the remains of animals and plants that lived in the forests. Along with millions of tons of silt, these too were deposited on the sea floor.

As the ages rolled by, a miracle took place. Buried under the salt water, the mud and silt turned to limestone and shale . . . the fatty parts of the plant and animal matter underwent a chemical change and became oil.

The earth's crust shifted

Then came a time of great upheaval, when the submerged lands thrust upwards, pushing back the shallow, inland seas. The old sea floors, with their layers of rock and oil, were cast up high and dry to form parts of today's continents.

Some of the oil seeped to the new earth's surface, to form asphalt pits such as are found in Trinidad and California. But most of it was buried thousands of feet below ground level. There, mixed with salt water and gas, it soaked into sandy pockets and pools where it was trapped and walled in by masses of hard rock through which the oil could not seep.

Hundreds of useful servants

Today these underground stores of oil, found in many parts of the world including Canada, are of great service to mankind. Not only do they provide the gasoline and oil to drive and lubricate our motor cars; they are also the source of essential petroleum products that serve the factory worker, the painter, the printer, the doctor, the railroadman, the roadmaker, the housewife and the farmer.

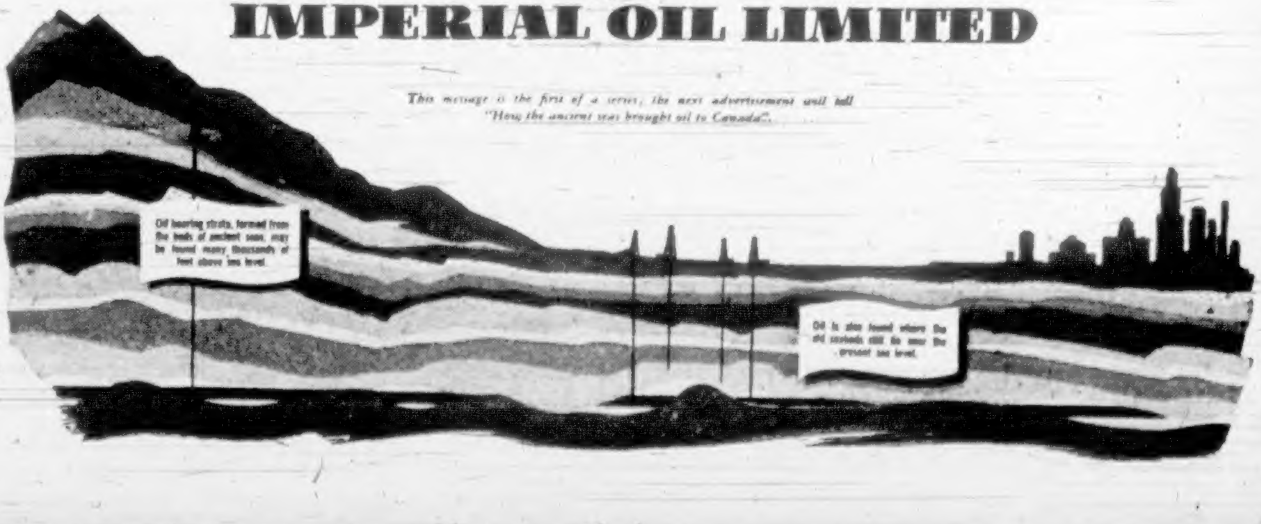
It may surprise you to know, for example, that Imperial Oil Limited makes several hundred individual petroleum necessities for Canadians, in its refineries in British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and Northwest Territories.

IMPERIAL PRODUCTS

* According to geologists, some of today's oil-bearing earth strata were formed in the "Ordovician Age" which began 500 million years ago.

IMPERIAL OIL LIMITED

This message is the first of a series; the next advertisement will tell "How the ancient seas brought oil to Canada".



Oil bearing strata, formed from the beds of ancient seas, may be found many thousands of feet above sea level.
Oil is also found where the old seabeds still lie near the present sea level.

Your Health and Your Weight

Jas. W. Barton, M.D.

THE FOOD NEEDS OF THE BODY

An overweight father will state that his son of 15 eats more food than he does yet is not up to even normal weight for his height. An overweight mother will say the same about her 13-year-old daughter. And it is true.

What the overweight mother and [illegible] of food needed by man, woman, boy or girl depends mostly on the skin surface of the body and as the skin surface of a boy of 15 and a girl of 13 (age of puberty) is almost equal to that of a man or woman (adults) they require about the same amount of food. The reason the boy of 15 and girl of 13 need more food than their father or mother is that in addition to having about the same amount of skin surface they require extra food for growth which is twice as active at puberty as it is before and after puberty.

As men and women reach maturity there is not quite as much food needed because growth has stopped so that after reaching maturity or full growth, the food required depends upon the physical work done, the temperature of surroundings and the time of year.

Having attained full growth the man or woman usually settles down to a routine of rest, sleep, work, recreation and food intake and in the great majority of cases the intake of food and the output of energy and waste are equal and the weight remains the same day in and day out. If there is a gain in weight it means that the body is taking in more food than it is expending in energy or work, or that the individual is resting or sleeping more than he should. Putting on weight after the body has reached maturity is a sign of good health but it is also a sign that the individual needs to control his health habits as overweight is a health hazard or liability.

Before the [illegible] age of maturity, 27 in men, 25 in women, underweight is a health hazard or liability and more food or more rest is needed.

What is known as the essential or absolutely necessary diet to maintain health and supply energy for the body needs daily consists of: Milk, one pint to one quart. Fruit twice daily. Vegetables (not starchy) at least twice daily, leafy one at least three times per week. Salad (raw) at least once or even twice daily.

[illegible] whole grain food, one serving of potatoes, one serving of meat, one egg, butter.

The balance of the diet to complete the amount of food [illegible] needed by the body [illegible] cereal foods, breads, crackers, [illegible] other bakery products, [illegible] foods, desserts [illegible] or vegetables, fatty foods or sweets, beverages.

As we look over the list of absolutely necessary foods, the food that [illegible] from a protective standpoint and the food to balance or fill the diet, it will be seen that raw fruit and vegetables and whole grain are the only types that are not eaten often enough by most individuals. Raw foods, both fruit and vegetable, are not only bulky but contain roughage. For the normal individual this roughage will prevent constipation.

WORRY PREVENTS GAIN IN WEIGHT

When we learn from the figures of insurance companies that [illegible] we should remember that [illegible] in these cases has [illegible] overweight at [illegible]. When, however, the individual has been of normal weight or overweight and then, slowly or rapidly, gradually loses weight there must be some reason for it and if he does not feel as well as when he was of normal weight the reason or cause for the loss of weight should be investigated.

One of the different types of underweight is that in which the individual has something on his mind and as long as this is worrying him it is going to affect his appetite, his digestion and his sleep, all of which must be kept in mind in trying to find a cause and cure for underweight. When worry is present there is little or no desire to eat and the food that is eaten may remain in the stomach for many hours before the stomach [illegible] to mix this food with the digestive juice of the stomach. In the case of most worriers the stomach movements work too fast, too much juice is manufactured and an overacid condition is set up which may cause ulcer of the stomach or of the small intestine into which the food from the stomach is emptied. The rich protein foods—meat, eggs, fish—do not get properly digested owing to this over activity.

Worry often interferes with the action of the liver and gall bladder so that not enough bile is manufactured and poured into the food as it enters the small intestine from the stomach. Because of lack of bile due to this slowness of action of the liver and gall bladder the fats in the food are not digested or emulsified sufficiently to be absorbed into the blood and constipation [illegible]. In some cases worry causes the movements of the small intestine to work too rapidly and the food goes through the small intestine in such a short time that the nourishment of the food is not absorbed by the walls of the intestine and this food reaches the end of the small intestine and enters the large intestine with much of its nourishment thus lost as absorption of nourishment from the food that does reach the large intestine is slight.

Another reason why underweights do not increase in weight as do those of normal weight is because their small intestine may be five to 10 feet shorter and so there is less surface from which the food passing through the small intestine can be absorbed into the blood.

Added to this lack of appetite, too much stomach digestive juice, not enough bile to help digest fats and insufficient absorption of nourishment from food by the small intestine, all caused by worry or other digestive disturbances, is loss of sleep. It is known to all of us that if we have a [illegible] means broken rest and loss of hours of sleep. And it is during sleep that all the body processes are resting to some extent from their work, thus allowing the body to hold its gains from food instead of using up energy. Sleep is really an important factor in preventing loss of weight as is food.

The thought then for those who are underweight and need to gain weight is that where no infection or defect is present, worry or other emotional disturbances may be interfering with appetite, digestion and sleep.

WHEN food is plentiful the squirrel puts away a generous supply in safe keeping. And he does not touch it until he really needs it. The squirrel is smart! We would do well to emulate the squirrel in his thrift and foresight. Let us continue to buy, and put away, Victory Bonds and War Savings Stamps every time we get the opportunity. But most important of all—let us keep them until we really need them.

Japanese Stream Out of Kowloon

HONGKONG, Sept. 8 (CP).—One of the sights of Hongkong during the early stages of British reoccupation, with the Union Jack again flying over this Crown colony after three years and eight months of enemy rule, was the evacuation of Japanese military personnel.

The Japanese crossed the harbor to Kowloon on the Chinese mainland in rickety landing craft—taking with them their women and some of the loot they had gathered. Throughout the first day's reoccupation they could be seen streaming away through the streets of Kowloon, their possessions dragged along in drays drawn by coolies.

Izvestia Suggests Hands Off Romania

MOSCOW, Sept. 8 (AP).—Izvestia today declared a hands-off policy to be the Soviet principle concerning internal affairs of Romania and charged that young King Michael was under American and British pressure in asking recently for aid in forming a new government.

King Michael recently invited Russia, Britain, and the United States to help in the formation of a new regime which all would recognize. Britain and the United States signified their willingness to consult.

Izvestia's editorial charged that some sections of the foreign press now are trying to create a 'Romanian question' such as that which, in its time, was created on the Polish question with the aim of fanning disagreement between Allied powers.

"Characteristically enough," on the other hand, it said, there is rising a more sober voice of people who, taking into consideration the history of the celebrated Polish question, forewarn Britain and the United States from repeating such policies regarding Romania.

SPORTS SLANTS

By SID THOMAS

TABLE TENNIS WILL MAKE SEASON'S PLANS

One of the most progressive organizations in the city, the Victoria Table Tennis Association will make plans for the coming season at a meeting tomorrow evening at the Y.M.C.A.

One sport that has advanced a long way since it was played on the dining-room table in grandad's day, table tennis has reached a point where it has become one of the most popular of the many sports on Victoria's Winter program.

But the road to success has been studded with many obstacles which officials of the Victoria Table Tennis Association brushed aside in their climb to one of the finest and best clubs in Canada.

Future of the sport looks exceptionally bright. Many of the boys are returning after doing their bit overseas, and with quite a crop of promising young players coming to the fore we look for big things during the coming season.

We repeat table tennis has come a long way [illegible] and [illegible] achieved by the Victoria Table Tennis Association compares very favorably with that of any club in the country.

HERE'S AN OPPORTUNITY FOR CRIB PLAYERS

[illegible] friend Cecil Holt is a cribbage fan and most of the success enjoyed by the Eagles Cribbage Club last season was due to his efforts. Being of an ambitious nature, Mr. Holt is anxious to expand [illegible] cribbage family, and for this reason has called a meeting for all cribbage players tomorrow evening at the F.O.E. Hall, 751 View Street, at 8.

Cribbage is a very popular game and we [illegible] think Mr. Holt's idea [illegible] an inter-club league [illegible] of consideration. A [illegible] inter-club [illegible] last season but [illegible] extension of the organization [illegible] league with a regular [illegible] playing nights [illegible] opportunity for you [illegible] to get in the fun and [illegible] the competitive crib [illegible].

Good Prices Rule as Willows Racing Opens

Double-Figure Returns Posted in Four Events—Harvey Duncan Rides Three Winners

With visitors from Seattle and Vancouver swelling the opening day attendance, Victoria's 14-day race meeting was ushered in yesterday at the Willows under ideal conditions. Brilliant sunshine greeted the punters and good prices in four of the seven events added to the day's enjoyment.

Double-figure [illegible] were posted on the [illegible] board [illegible] with the [illegible] returned by Sweet Rainie [illegible].

[illegible]

Rocking [illegible] Sweet Rainie [illegible] reached the [illegible] at five and one-half furlongs and rewarded her backers with $20.60 for a $2 straight ticket. Valdina [illegible] with Johnny Hrutchak in the saddle was second and Special Lad was third.

Jockey Emil Sports, top rider at the Vancouver meeting, scored his first winner of the meet here when he brought Brilliant Help, the odds-on favorite, down in front in the [illegible] event. Zephra Lad with [illegible] Cox aboard finished in the place [illegible] and Kaswood was third.

[illegible] posted his second winner in the third race when he brought Black Memory down in front. Best Dressed, who set all of the pace but was unable to hold the [illegible], was second and [illegible] the show portion of the purse.

Harvey Duncan, with a leg-up on Machrina Boy, took the maiden two-year-old event and lucky punters collected $18.15 for their selection. It was the Boy's first start.

Oscar Andrade, young Mexican rider, miraculously escaped injury in [illegible] event when his mount Cherokee B[illegible], after bearing out leaving the clubhouse turn, jumped the guard [illegible] at the head of the back stretch and threw him. The rider was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital but was not detained.

Track officials reported later that the boy was unhurt.

Duncan rode his second straight winner when he took the fifth with Tidy Peter and then completed his hat trick when he brought Meadowvale Boy, half brother to Machrina Boy, home in front in the sixth.

Stockton, starting at little better than eight to one, took the honors in the seventh and final race on the card. Hernandez was in the pilot house.

[illegible] the Mainland scored in every inning as [illegible] advantage of the wildness of two Adverts pitchers, who issued no less than 22 bases on balls. [illegible] McKenzie [illegible] hits apiece for the winners, the former including a home run among her blows.

Dick Barrett and Ford Mullen Will Join the Beavers

SEATTLE, Sept. 8 (AP).—The Times said today "Kewpie" Dick Barrett and Ford Mullen, colorful former Seattle Rainier baseball stars, will be back in the Pacific Coast Baseball League next season for the Portland Beavers.

George W. Norgan, president and principal owner of the Beavers, told The Times that the Philadelphia Phillies have turned over Barrett and Mullen for 1946 delivery in part payment for Shortstop John O'Neil.

Acquisition of Barrett, who has been a spectacular although spotty starting hurler for the Phillies, will be announced soon from Portland baseball headquarters.

The Mullen deal apparently was contingent on his status with the army. He currently is stationed at Port Lewis with no knowledge at this time of when he will be discharged.

He has been keeping in top shape playing with the Fort Lewis Warriors.

Sailors' Medals

[illegible] ... for their work in rescuing the passengers and crew of the Royal Mail ship Tweed when she was lost off the Gulf of Mexico.

But for a quarter of a century the idea lay in abeyance and not until 1852 was the proposed medal issued.

The delay arose partly from the fact that in 1847 the society issued a third award again exactly like the 1839 one but with different inscriptions. [illegible] Brandon Moore, a leading philanthropist of the day who was interested in seamen, [illegible] gave £500 worth of railway stock for the purpose and the medal bears his name. [illegible]

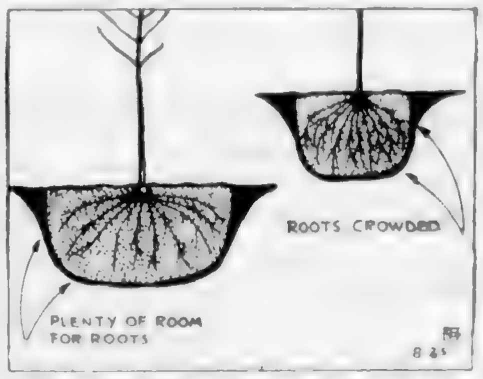
Planning to Plant Fruit Trees?



By DEAN HALLIDAY

Released by Central Press Association

There is more to planting a fruit tree than just sticking it in the ground, even though the trees when received from the nursery look like little more than whips.

The holes for planting fruit trees must be large enough to permit the roots to be spread in natural position as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph. All broken portions of the roots should be cut off so as to leave the ends smooth and sound.

If the roots of a young tree are crowded into a hole which is not large enough or deep enough to properly accommodate them as illustrated, the chances are the tree will not live or if it does it will be slow to develop [illegible]

A tree should be planted two or three inches deeper than [illegible] stood in the nursery row. The soil should be firmly packed about the roots. [illegible] Leave three inches of the surface soil loose to serve as a mulch.

The branches of a young fruit tree should be pruned back at planting time one-half or two-thirds of their length, depending of course upon the branch growth the tree carries. Pruning is essential, however, to enable the transplanted roots to feed the tree properly as well as [illegible] orderly growth of branches.

The Kidneys Filter the Blood

Any poisonous waste materials which the liver has failed to eliminate from the digested food before it is taken up by the blood stream must be looked after by the kidneys if the blood is to be rid of dangerous poisons.

When the kidneys fail there comes a poisoning of the system with headaches, tired feelings, loss of sleep and such painful ailments as backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago and other ills.

The use of Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills is suggested because they help in three ways to get rid of this condition.

(1) By arousing the action of the liver which prevents certain poisons from getting into the blood stream.

(2) By stimulating the activity of the kidneys in their work of filtering poisons from the blood.

(3) By ensuring activity of the bowels in eliminating the poisonous waste materials from the body.

Surely this must be a thorough system of protecting the body against the poisons which result from the digestion of food. Such treatment is required by almost everybody at one time or another.

Using Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills once or twice a week will help to keep you regular and well and free from unnecessary pains and discomforts. 35 cts., a box

Closet and Storage Space Important in New Home

Far too many families about to build a [illegible] that closet and storage space need special consideration when planning. The young couple about to give up apartment life to have a spot in the suburbs frequently visualize a modernistic house with flat roof and no basement. To them this represents the acme of home planning. "Nothing old fashioned and inefficient for us," they claim.

We are not going to argue one way or the other about attics or basements. Remember, almost every healthy child has [illegible] of equally cumbersome and/or gadget. Then dad usually has tools, guns, fishing tackle and maybe an electric train too! Of course there may be a baby carriage too and trunk and a few pet heirlooms that aren't being used just now. All these things and many more as well require special storage space somewhere.

In an entirely different category come blankets, linens, every day clothes, off season clothes, formal clothes, vacuums, brooms, mops. Don't neglect to provide a place in all bedroom closets for hats and shoes—these are "problem articles" in anybody's language.

Apart from all the above come screens, storm windows, the garden [illegible] old cans of paint, etc.

This will give you some idea what to consider when planning the storage space you will need. Each family's requirements will differ. Study yours carefully and don't skimp on closet space!

You probably have already observed that the average closet is about as wasteful and inefficient as any part of the house. Often they are inaccessible even though quite large in floor area. A closet is essentially a place for convenient storage. It should be compact and efficient.

Closets aren't the old style walk in grope around affairs they were. Oh, of course walk-in closets still are in use but they're lined with cabinets or they are equipped with racks, bags and correct hangers. And they're beautiful with wallpaper and perhaps, if they are big enough, they boast a dressing table and mirror. Instead of bleak caverns full-size closets are gay and attractive and efficient.

But the greatest development in storage space is [illegible] of the cabinet principle, sliding doors or hinged doors that open the [illegible] any room in the house.

[illegible] Modernage Builders

The kitchen illustrated above is an example of sensible remodelling. The counter tops are large and finished in masonite with ceramic tile on the walls to cupboard height. The cupboards are spacious and provide plenty of storage room. Throughout the remodelling every effort was made to cut down the housewife's work and to provide an easily cleaned and well lighted kitchen.

Bathroom Fixtures Basically Unchanged

A continual improvement in the beauty of plumbing fixtures is envisioned for the postwar world but the householder who is waiting for drastic changes is doomed to disappointment, according to a bulletin issued by the Canadian Institute of Plumbing and Heating.

A [illegible] of [illegible] authorities in both the United States and Canada agree that while plumbing may be better, designs may be more plentiful, other items not now included such as dishwashers [illegible] may be added, there is little likelihood of major structural and material change in bathroom and [illegible] plumbing [illegible].

"Remember," said one authority interviewed by the Institute, "most of the uses to which the new material [illegible] Plumbing is the science of getting water where it is wanted and how it is wanted and then getting it away again. And this science is almost as old as man. While everyone interested in the progress of the plumbing industry is watching all new developments carefully, it [illegible] which has been experimenting for all these centuries, new and radical change is unlikely. The reason is that most of the things which will basically improve plumbing have already been thought of and are now in use. The biggest postwar change that is likely to come to plumbing is that more of it is likely to be used."

[illegible] tub. He won't.

[illegible] is in a greater proportion of the family [illegible] will be maintained. Houses which add powder rooms for the greater convenience of having lavatory and [illegible] toilet facilities on the ground floor [illegible] room and outdoor sport and so save dirt and confusion in the household will maintain them.

And just as these extra facilities result in the greater use of hot water so the greater use tends to raise the sanitation and convenience level of the household standard. In adding extra plumbing to help raise the general standard [illegible] the prestige of the family in the community it is well to consult our plumber early in your plans. He can not only save you money but can indicate the type of equipment that will suit you best and at the same time add to value of your property.

Dorothy McGuire Stars In Poignant Love Story

Romance of an unusual kind motivates "The Enchanted Cottage," which opens tomorrow at the Capitol Theatre. It is Hollywood's newest feature offering, starring Dorothy McGuire, Robert Young and Herbert Marshall.

An old honeymoon lodge on the New England coast is the scene of most of the action. A young reserve army pilot leases the place for his honeymoon, but drops his marriage plans when the Japs strike at Pearl Harbor. Badly disfigured in a plane crash he returns home to find he cannot endure the gushing sympathy of his family and his fiancee.

He retires to the lodge to get away from them and there he encounters a girl who has also been running away from the world because of her extreme plainness. Their common handicap draws them together, and their subsequent marriage works a modern miracle.

The romantic leads are portrayed by Miss McGuire and Young, while Marshall is a blind pianist who lives nearby and who becomes their intimate friend. Mildred Natwick, Spring Byington, Hillary Brooke, Richard Gaines and Alec Englander head the supporting cast.

"Tarzan Triumphs," a Story Of War in the Jungle

"Tarzan Triumphs," the Sol Lesser production for RKO Radio, brings the famous fictional character of Edgar Rice Burroughs up to date in his latest screen adventure, which opens Monday at the York Theatre, with a midnight showing tonight. With all of the beauty and glamour of the jungle as a background, this dynamic drama shows the effect of the present war on the peace-loving people of the jungle. In this respect Tarzan, who does not believe in striking until attacked, refuses to lend aid when the Nazi parachute troops arrive to lay claim to the hidden wealth found in the jungle. Not until they enslave the little town of Palandria, a community of hard-pressed people who escaped from the ravages of war-torn Europe to find peace in the jungle, does Tarzan emit his popular battle cry and gird himself for war. How he vanquishes his enemies with the aid of his many jungle friends, including Bessie the elephant and Cheta the Chimpanzee, provides this production with its quota of thrills.

Frances Gifford plays the role of Zandra, Tarzan's new leading lady. Also Johnny Sheffield, who has played Tarzan's son in many previous Tarzan pictures, is again presented in this production. Johnny Weissmuller is, of course, starred.

Judy Garland Stars in A Tuneful Romance

"Meet Me in St. Louis" throws the spotlight on that great American institution, the family circle, due for the most memorable inning when motion picture audiences meet the Smiths of the outstanding Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Technicolor production when it opens Monday at the Cadet Theatre.

Starring Judy Garland and adapted from the charming "Kensington Avenue" series of sketches authored by Sally Benson for The New Yorker, the Smiths prove to be a lively tribe of eight during the years of 1903-04. Their everyday adventures provide such a nostalgic note that many a home of 1945 doubtless will begin to yearn for "the good old days."

Atlas Holds Over Great Love Story

The sound men's choice for top movie stars are together at last.

They are Merle Oberon and Paul Muni. Their popularity with the sound technicians has nothing to do with their personalities, appearances, charm, acting abilities or draw at the box office. It is based, instead, on the ease with which their voices are recorded.

"Both of them just flow on to the sound track," says Lodge Cunningham, who monitored the sound apparatus on the Muni-Oberon co-starrer, "A Song to Remember," filmed in Technicolor at Columbia, which has been held over at the Atlas Theatre.

To hear Cunningham talk, it's very like a sound man's holiday when Oberon and Muni are emoting.

Footlight Favorites Coming to the Royal

Footlight Favorites, the vocal quartette which will open the Hilker Attractions 1945-46 concert season at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Wednesday, September 19th, was organized in 1944 by W. Colston Leigh, lecture and concert impresario, after a survey [illegible] that the majority were in favor of better known semi-classical compositions.

When Mr. Leigh introduced Footlight Favorites to a sold-out house at New York City's Carnegie Hall, he stated: "We want to give the audience the music it likes. We think a concert should be just as entertaining as an evening in the theatre. The American people like good music, and the audience for good music has grown enormously in the last few years. By good music I do not necessarily mean abstract music that has only a pedagogical interest. I mean classical or semi-classical works which most music lovers wish to hear. The Footlight Favorites, for example, sing Strauss or Jerome Kern, not because the music is either Strauss or Kern, but because of the interest in the music and its suitability to the program."

VANCOUVER, Sept. 8 (CP) — A fierce westerly gale yesterday washed ashore the tug Port Alberni and damaged four sailboats in the Vancouver area.

The six-man crew of the Port Alberni escaped injury when the vessel was [illegible] ashore at the mouth of the Fraser River.

The sailboat Johnson, with no one aboard, was found wrecked on the beach of English Bay today, and three other sailboats moored in the same area capsized.

Other minor damage was caused by the gale.

Abbott and Costello Held Over at the Plaza Theatre

That famous funnyman team, Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, starred in Universal's extravagant new comedy production, "The Naughty Nineties," is being held over at the Plaza Theatre.

New gags, new situations and surprises result in a triumph for Universal's great combination of fun-making talent and ingenious stagecraft.

The interest-compelling plot of the picture opens aboard an old-time Mississippi River showboat, Costello as chief [illegible].

The showboat captain and his daughter, played by Henry Travers and Lois Collier, lose control of their boat to a pair of crooked gamblers, enacted by Rita Johnson and Joe Sawyer.

Later Abbott and Costello, in a series of [illegible], succeed in running the two gamblers and their gang off the boat and restoring it to respectability.

Stark, Vivid Screen Fare Now Showing at Dominion

"The Unseen" is one of those chillers which comes along every so often to test the moviegoer's fortitude. Principal characters in this Paramount film, ending Monday at the Dominion Theatre, are Gail Russell, Joel McCrea and Herbert Marshall. All three do their share of providing the mystery and suspense which characterizes every scene, according to reports.

Lewis Allen directs "The Unseen" and his name is fast becoming associated with suspense pictures which carry that electrifying shock so important to really successful mystery thrillers.

As the scenes unfold, the plot thickens until suspicion points at each of the possible killers. Suspense is at its height near the climax when the murderer brazenly attempts to remove the blood stains in the dead of night only to be trapped by Miss Russell. The denouement has some surprises in store for lovers of mystery films, it's said, and the entertainment value of "The Unseen" is constant throughout. Characterizations by both the stars and supporting players are reported as topnotch in every respect.

Nazi Woman's Anti-American Campaign Leads to Arrest

By OTTO ZAUSMER
North American Newspaper Alliance

BERCHTESGADEN — A high-ranking Nazi, Dr. Hans George Mayer, and his wife, Lisebette, were both arrested recently in this former residence of the Fuehrer. I received permission to talk to the couple today. Dr. Mayer, by his own admission, was an S.S. Sturmbannfuehrer and commissioner of the city of Litzmannstadt and later of Babianice, a town of 60,000 inhabitants with a special ghetto for 8,000 Jews, miserably housed, hardly fed and brutally treated.

According to Mayer, Hitler's devil[illegible] wholesale murder in gas chambers was conceived at a meeting of Hitler, Himmler, Goebbels, Kaltenbrunner and Heydrich in the offices of the Berlin security police in 1940. Later, after having been called to Norway as a special assistant to the Reich's Governor Terboven there, he returned to Babianice. All the Jews had gone. Mayer claims he had nothing to do with their slaughter. All he pretends to know is that 4,000 were gassed and the rest were taken to an unknown destination in [illegible].

Mrs. Lisebette Mayer, who is an M.D., at first claimed that she had not been interested in politics. But when I asked her to tell me what in her opinion were the main achievements of the Nazis, she grew quite enthusiastic and assured me the German people had to be grateful for the magnificent job the Nazis had done in feeding the nation.

"Just think!" she exclaimed. [illegible] Southern France with its rich [illegible] had a famine. I understand but Germany received practically the same rations and [illegible] throughout the war. This was a result of the splendid [illegible] of the Government."

RESIDENTS OF FAIRFIELD and GONZALES

We are sorry, too!

WE REGRET that we have been unable to serve Fairfield and Gonzales residents with THE SERVICE WE OFFERED ON MAY 26 LAST. WE ARE DETERMINED TO CONTINUE OUR EFFORTS TO PROVIDE THE RESIDENTS OF GREATER VICTORIA WITHIN THE THREE MILE RADIUS WITH A 5c FARE AND AN 80c WEEKLY PASS AND THE FULL ADVANTAGES OF BLUE LINE SERVICE including A CONNECTING SERVICE INTO OAK BAY. This is only fair to the people who have supported us and want the service we offer!

WE REGRET ANY INCONVENIENCE that has been occasioned by what has transpired SINCE WE MADE THE OFFER NEARLY FOUR MONTHS AGO! We did not anticipate the conflicting application made by the B.C. Electric, who claim that by reason of No. 6 street car line inaugurated 36 years ago to serve Cook Street and Ross Bay Cemetery they have prior rights in an area comprising 17½ of the population of the city

The merits of our appeal will, of course, be sub judice and we must wait the result accordingly

Sammy Snead Takes Lead in Dallas Golf

DALLAS, Sept. 8 (AP)—Slammin' Sammy Snead, the drawling Virginian, rolled in with a three-under-par 69 today to overtake and pass Harold (Jug) McSpaden in the battle for the Dallas open golf tournament, reaching the three-quarters mark with 208, one stroke ahead of the field.

McSpaden, who started today's play two under Snead, three-putted No. 18 to take a five and finish with an even par 72 that gave him a total of 209. Snead had come in an hour before.

Two strokes back of McSpaden, the dapper pro from Sanford, Me., seeking his first tournament championship this year, came Wee Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., who shot a 69 to bring his score for 54 holes to 211, one better than Vic Ghezzi of Deal, N.J.

Byron Nelson of Toledo was one under par to retain his fifth-place stand of yesterday with a total of 213, one stroke below Johnny Bulla of Atlanta, Ga.

There were few sub-par rounds today as the touring pros continued to find the Dallas Country Club [illegible]

1 GIFT for 20 GREAT CAUSES

We have won the military fight in Europe — but, as we worked and fought, the tide of social welfare problems at home continued unabated. Today, the pressing problems of juvenile delinquency, family discord, child neglect, disease prevention—are still with us.

Any social worker will tell you that today the need is greater than ever — a challenge to all our community resources.

Essential local agencies dedicated to the welfare of the unfortunate and underprivileged can be counted on to accept the challenge —to strengthen their efforts — to meet the needs adequately, if sufficient funds are available.

Beginning now on the industrial front and followed by a city-wide canvass, the campaign for raising the necessary money will be supported by every foresighted, public spirited citizen. Get ready — contribute generously.

5 IN MEMORIAM

McDONNELL—In loving memory of my beloved husband, Hugh Roland McDonnell, who passed away suddenly September 8, 1944.

Forget him? No—We never will
For in our thoughts he liveth still
Only [illegible] who have lost can tell
The loss of a loved one without farewell!

Inserted by his wife and children.

WEBBER—In loving memory of our dear mother, Clara A. Webber, who passed peacefully away September 9, 1944.

Sadly we miss her and try not to grieve
A little while longer we too must leave
To meet her on that beautiful shore
Where parting's unknown and life's ever more.

No one knows the silent heartaches
Only those who have lost can tell
Of the grief that's borne in silence
For the one we loved so well.

For all of us she did her best
God grant to her eternal rest.

—Always remembered by her loving daughters, Ann Haggart, Maud Hayward and Cassie Harrison and their families.

Effort to Save Man Unavailing

Efforts of city firemen and police to save the life of John S. Fox, 35, 1324 Slater Street, failed yesterday afternoon. He was pronounced dead by Dr. J. R. J. Angus on arrival at the Royal Jubilee Hospital. It is believed he suffered a heart attack.

Mr. Fox was found lying on his bed.

The fire department responded to a call for the inhalator at 2:37 p.m. Deputy Chief J. Raymond and Firemen E. J. Harris and William Millikin worked on the man for some time at his home and carried on their efforts in the police ambulance on the way to the hospital.

Constables Ray Maitland, Charles Webb, Stanley Holmes and Brooke Douglass also answered the call.

Police and firemen made the decision to rush the man to hospital when efforts to locate a doctor failed.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, Sept. 8 (AP).—Short-covering in the nervous rye market boosted the September delivery around two cents a bushel at times today after early weakness in all contracts. Wheat and oats also rallied to score a fractional advance in late trade, but corn was weak most of the session.

Rye short covering met light offerings and prices were influenced easily. The September contract has been light and no cash rye has been offered for delivery on the September contract.

Wheat closed ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, September $1.65 1-8, corn was 1-8 to 1-2 off, December $1.14 1-2, oats were 1-4 down to 1-8 up, September 58 1-8, rye was 3-4 to 1 1-2 cent higher, September 1.51 3-4 to 1.52 and barley was 1-4 up to 12 down, September $1.09 3-4.

Reed Canary Grass

While reed canary grass is a newcomer among cultivated hay and pasture crops, it is a native species found growing wild in Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Rapid gains in popularity, as a cultivated crop, in recent years has been due largely to the selection and multiplication of desirable forage type plants from native material, says Dr. T. M. Stevenson, Dominion Agrostologist, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

The grass possesses many characteristics of value. In hardiness and yield it equals the best of the cultivated grasses. The quality of the forage, both as hay and as pasture, is good. In feeding value it ranks with timothy. It surpasses all other cultivated grasses in Canada in its ability to grow in flooded land. It thrives where the water lies for several weeks during the growing season. On the other hand this grass has shown considerable drought resistance when grown on higher, well drained land.

Reed canary grass is worthy of trial in hay and pasture mixtures throughout Eastern Canada, and particularly on low-lying poorly-drained land.

Blackpool Turns Back Blackburn Rovers, 5-2

Maintains Two-Point Lead in Soccer Race—Five Clubs Undefeated—540,000 See Matches

LONDON.—Blackpool scored a 5-2 to maintain its two-point lead over other teams in the League North standings, as British football teams fought their third week-end games in the new season.

A new-season record of 540,000 fans watched matches in all leagues despite indifferent weather at many places. Officially, footballers were playing "under protest" against salary disputes, but they showed no lack of enthusiasm on the field and the calibre of play was high.

Positions in the standings mean little as few games yet have been played by any team. Of 86 clubs now playing, only five—Huddersfield Town, Charlton Athletic, Queens Park Rangers, Chester and Cardiff City—can boast victory in every match.

Second place in League North is held by Chesterfield by virtue of a 2-0 decision over Manchester United. Huddersfield Town, which has played only three games so far, held even with Chesterfield on points, but is listed third owing to a lower goal average. Huddersfield won 2-0 from Sunderland today, while Bolton Wanderers scored a 2-0 victory over Burnley to hold fourth position.

Charlton Athletic held a one-point lead in the League South table with a 3-1 victory over Coventry City and Wolverhampton Wanderers were second, one point behind, after a 1-0 decision over Brentford. West Bromwich Albion is tied on points but stands third on goal average.

Aston Villa moved up in the standings to fourth with a 6-3 victory over Swansea, while West Ham United was able only to hold Tottenham to a 1-1 tie.

Lou Newman Scores Win In Mat Bout

Promoter Jim Downing rang a substitute into his card last night in the person of Lou Newman, a former Victorian, and the local boy's smashing win over rough Jim Wright, of Texas, provided cheers for a large crowd at the Summer wrestling in the Royal Victoria Theatre.

In the night's wind-up bout, Lord Albert Mills and Cliff Gustafson went the full six rounds to a draw in hard fought, scientific match.

Two ageing wrestlers, Ed "Strangler" Lewis and Bob Kruse, provided little excitement and failed to dampen the pleasure of the fans when Lewis' damaging head holds left Kruse too far gone to continue.

The only glory for the former world's champion and all-time wrestling great had to come from basking in the limelight of his brilliant young protege, Gustafson.

Newman started his wrestling as an amateur at the "Y" here, later shifting to the Tillicum gym. He joined the pro ranks in 1937 and wrestled here for about a year and a half before swinging down into the United States and touring the Eastern, Canadian and American circuit.

Last night he got away to a bad start with Wright, letting himself be trapped in a headlock and winding up pinned to the mat in the second round after a series of rolls. In the third, he threw the big Texan about the ring and gained an even split with a body spread. Newman caught Jim Wright coming off the ropes with a vicious elbow smash and it was just a matter of spreading him to gain the verdict in the fourth round.

GUSTAFSON AND MILLS PROVIDE PLEASING BOUT

Cliff Gustafson showed little of "Strangler" Lewis' tactics in his long clean bout with the English wrestler. His rolling leg lock, however, was one of the most pleasing holds shown here by any wrestler.

Mills scored the first fall after nearly three full rounds of tough wrestling. It came from a combined head lock and roll. In the second, Albert had given the kid a lesson in leg locks after nearly losing the use of his own left leg.

Gustafson scored his fall in the fifth round after tossing his bigger opponent around the ring like a sack of coal. It came after a series of tremendous body smashes.

Anything but a draw would have been an unfair decision in this main bout, when the audience saw a battle scarred veteran at his peak and a fast youth really mix it up for sixty minutes.

Bellingham Bells Win at Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Sept. 8 (CP)—Bellingham won an 8-1 decision over Vancouver's Arnold & Quigley in the fourth game of a senior city baseball semi-final here tonight. The win brought the teams to a draw and they will play the fifth and deciding game here Tuesday.

Joe Faria struck out 11 for the Bells in tonight's battle. Pat Thomas managed the only home run of the evening for the Vancouver team. Ty Hofeditz managed a homer for Bellingham in the ninth.
